Split Among Republicans Grows Wider

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

Although Antioch Township Republican Chairman Charles 'Chuck' Kempf was re-elected 13-0 on April 3, all is not sweetness and light in the Antioch Twp. Republican Club.

The split between Kempf and Jim Fields, Antioch Twp. supervisor and Lake County Board member, is wide enough that disgruntled Antioch Republicans might back a challenger against Fields in the county board race two years from now.

According to Kempf, at the county convention, one of the committeemen suggested that they go ahead and hold the election for township officers. Kempf said that Fields pitched a fit because one of the committeemen (Robert Furry) was not present and there should be no election without notice to all committeemen.

Kempf said he told Fields that he (Fields) could cast Furry's proxy vote if he wanted. Fields was adamant, though, that no vote be held. Kempf then yielded to Field's objection and scheduled the meeting for April 3.

"The kicker," said Kempf, "was that after we rescheduled the meeting to satisfy Jim Fields, he was the only committeeman who did not show. I don't know why, but Jim Fields has not been supportive of me. I have always supported him. I think right now he is mad because I supported Venita McConnell for county clerk and he wanted Donna-Mae (Litwiler)."

Fields said that it was not the absence of Committeeman Furry that upset him; it was the fact that no notice had been given that there would be a vote.

"I don't think it is right to hold an election without letting everyone involved know that you are going to hold it," Fields said. "On the night that they did hold the meeting, my bridge club was meeting for dinner at my house. I was not going to leave a dinner that I was hosting to go to the Republican Club meeting. Besides, all I really cared about was that everyone be notified of the meeting."

Responding to charges that he was not supportive of Kempf, Fields said, "I feel that Chuck is not going to pull the (Republican) club together. When we voted on county clerk endorsements, there were not enough votes to endorse either candidate. Then when we went to the county endorsement meeting, Chuck got up and spoke in endorsement of McConnell. That was not what the township organization voted to do and it was a slap at all the committeemen in Antioch who supported Litwiler."

Continuing, Fields said, "I supported Litwiler. She's running from our district (County Board District 4) and I think we ought to support our own candidate."

Fields also said that he will be a candidate for re-election to the county board when his term is up in 1988.

In response, Kempf said, "I understand Jim's feelings about supporting one of your own, but sometimes you put your feelings in your pocket and go with the most qualified. I think that McConnell was the most qualified. That's what primaries are all about: you fight it out and after it's over you concentrate on winning in November."

In summary, Kempf said that he had always supported Fields before, but would not support him again.

Asked if this meant that he would not support Fields' run for re-election to the county board in two years, Kempf said, "There is talk of putting up someone else. A lot of people have talked to me about it."

Clearly, a lot of fences are going to have to be mended if Antioch Republicans are going to mount a unified campaign effort two years hence.

Don't Anybody Leave This Room

Frank Torrez interrogates suspects in murder mystery, "The Mousetrap," at PM&L theatre in Antioch. Show will play April 11, 12, 13, 18, and 19.

Historical Club To Hold Auction

The annual Antique Show and Sale, for the benefit of the Lakes Region Historical Society, will be held at the VFW Action Center, 75 North Ave, Antioch on Saturday and Sunday, April 19 and 20.

Twenty-five major antique dealers from northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin will display quality antiques. There will be a wide variety of items including furniture, jewelry, linens, primitives, china, glassware, hooked rugs, and World War I items. Serious collectors and newcomers alike are sure to find treasures to their liking.

The proceeds from this sale will be used to support the fledgling Historical Society Museum, located at the corner of Main and Depot Sts. in Antioch. This society is strictly a non-profit organization: all work is volunteer and all acquisitions are donated.

The museum is housed in the restored Antioch Grade School building built in 1892. This was not the first school structure. Except for a few surviving photographs attesting to its existence, very little is known about the original one-story frame school building.

The existing museum is a two-story yellow brick structure. It retains its original woodwork, wainscoting, hand-carved trim, and double stairway. Construction began in 1891. To date, the only workman of record was Hugh G. Dardis of Racine County, Wis. The museum hopes to obtain some of his tools for display.

As far as can be determined, the initial enrollment of the school was 12 students. Until 1915, the second floor was used as a two-year high school. Students who wished to continue their high school education had to attend school in Waukegan.

Fortunately, the original brass school bell was stored by school district 34 and was turned over to the society. An exact replica of the old bell tower was donated to the society. After two attempts, the bell has been restored to its original and rightful place on the roof.

The hours for the antique show will be: Saturday, April 19 from 10 a.m. till 9 p.m. and Sunday, April 20 from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission is $2.50 per person. Children under 12 will be admitted at no charge when accompanied by a parent.

Last Chance To Get Seats For Big Game

alumni. The game is being sponsored by the Lions Club.

Bear's players will be available to sign autographs and have their pictures taken with fans after the game.

Lucky fans who have winning tickets will get autographed basketballs. One of the winners will receive a 1986 Superbowl football.

Larry Leafblad, a popular local radio personality, will emcee the event. Entertainment will feature Alice's All-Star Baton Twirlers, The Antioch Lion's famous Lion, the Antioch High School Pep Band, and a well-known, award-winning pom pon squad.

The few tickets that are left are available at Antioch financial institutions and from members of the Lions Club. They are $5 for adults and $4 for students and children under 18.

Millburn Seeks To Leave Warren

by STEVE PETERSON

Millburn Grade School Dist. 24 residents will have an opportunity to give their views on possible detachment from Warren Twp. High School Dist. 121 at a hearing April 14.

The hearing before the Lake County Regional Board of School Trustees will be at 8 p.m. in Room 202 of the Lake County Building in Waukegan.

A group of Millburn Dist. 24 citizens is seeking detachment from Warren Twp. and annexation to Antioch High School Dist. 34.

Those favoring detachment say that joining the Antioch school district would mean lower property taxes and better articulation between grade school and high school.

For Warren, which is building a new high school after a December, 1984 fire, the detachment would mean the loss of $5,750,000 in assessed valuation. Even though Warren would only lose 18 students, the loss of property would mean an annual revenue loss of over $126,000.

About 30 pro-Warren parents and children attended a special Warren board of education meeting April 3 to express support for WTHS.

"We have people here who have lived in the Warren district for 30 years and now they have children who have children at Warren," Ken Marabella said.

Marabella said there was some confusion earlier this year about the state of Millburn detachment proceedings. He said a list of names of those opposed to the detachment has been given to WTHS Superintendent Dr. Lawrence Callan.

The detachment is the first of two detachments Warren is fighting. A group of Arbor Vista residents in the southern part of the district has filed petitions for detachment from Warren and annexation to Libertyville. That hearing is expected sometime this summer.

"It's such a structured process that you're not under any pressure like gerrymandering or something like that. The proceedings have a pretty good basis in law," Callan said.

The turnout of Millburn parents was generated with less than 48 hours notice of the special meeting.

"A lot of misinformation is going around. A lot of people think it would be put to referendum. A lot of neighborhoods were told they would save $8,000 but the actual savings are $150. Also, if Millburn joins Antioch, Antioch would have to pick up Millburn's portion of the Warren bond debt," Millburn resident Jim McKeown said.

"I think the opposition to annexation is just starting to build and get momentum," Callan said.

Warren attorney Dennis Brebner said that Antioch's tax rate is $1.814 per $100 of assessed valuation. Warren's rate is $2.199 per $100 of assessed valuation.

A petition was filed with the Lake County Board of School Trustees March 21 by Millburn supporters of detachment.

The petition has to have two-thirds of the registered Millburn voters, a possible point of contention.

Millburn grade school Supt. Dave Framke is in favor of detachment from Warren.

"Personally, I support the move. We need more coordination between the elementary school and high school. It's almost impossible to have articulation with two high schools," Framke said.

Framke, who is serving his last year as superintendent, said a majority of Millburn students will be attending Antioch.

"The state while not mandating it anymore, is still encouraging local districts to get their houses in order," Framke said, referring to the now suspended school reorganization process.

The petition would have to meet requirements of Section 7-4 of Chapter 122 of the Illinois Revised Statutes.

After the hearing, the board, of which Lake County Regional Supt. of Schools Bill Thompson is an ex-officio member, will have 30 days before determining whether or not to allow the process to continue.

Collision Totals Cars Leaves Few Injuries

An eight-year-old girl was taken to Condell Memorial Hospital in Libertyville after the car she was riding in collided with an oncoming car at the intersection of Rte. 176 and Lemon St. near Ivanhoe.

Larson was transported to Condell where she was treated for a cut below the eye and later released. Aside from a few cuts and bruises, no other persons sustained any serious injuries in the midmorning accident on April 4, according to Lake County sheriff's deputy Bruce Scottberg, who arrived at the scene of the accident.

Scottberg said the girl's mother, Donna Larson of Antioch, was eastbound on Rte. 176 when she passed directly in front of another car in the oncoming lane of traffic as she was making a left turn to go north on Lemon St.

Larson, who was driving a 1978 Buick Regal, was charged with failure to yield to an oncoming vehicle when she collided with a 1984 Oldsmobile Cutless.

Larson's son was also riding in the car, but was not hurt.

The other driver was identified as Thomas Henderson, 30, of Mundelein. Henderson's younger brother, David, 23, was a passenger in the car at the time. Neither were injured.

According to Scottberg, Larson claimed that both children were wearing seatbelts when the accident occurred. Her daughter had been a passenger in the front seat of the car.

Both cars were completely demolished and had to be taken away on flatbeds.

Village Board Meets

The Antioch Village Board had a quiet meeting on April 7.

Bids on mosquito control were so close that they were sent back to committee for further study. They will be brought up again at the meeting scheduled for Monday, April 21.

Bids on materials for the 1986 street resurfacing program were opened and sent to committee for review. Two bids were received. Peter Baker & Co. of Lake Bluff was the apparent low bidder at $24.13 per ton. The other bid, from Skokie Valley Asphalt of Grayslake was for $25.75 per ton.

The board accepted the resignation of Al Berkiel from the planning committee and approved Mayor Toft's appointment of Bernard Hobs to fill the unexpired term. Hobs' term will be up on May 1, 1987.

Mark Harasti, a sanitary plant operator for the village, submitted his resignation effective May 2. The board accepted it and wished him good luck in his future endeavors.

In other business, the board called a committee meeting for the purpose of meeting with residents of Bowles road to discuss maintenance of the road.

The village approved a one-day liquor license for the Chamber of Commerce during its annual Arts and Crafts Fair. The fair will be held on Sunday, July 13 at Williams Park.

A petition for annexation of five acres off Deep Lake Rd. was received from Gloria Wennstrom. It was sent to the planning commission for review.

The board approved a $1500 donation to the Parks from the DuPres re-subdivision. This re-subdivision will bring 100 apartment units to the intersection of Rtes 173 and 83.

YWCA To Award Women

Outstanding Lake County women, business and civic leaders who have made significant contributions to the progress of their companies and communities, will be honored at the YWCA of Lake County's 8th Annual Women of Achievement Dinner, July 23 at Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort.

Titled "Reflections of You," this year's program, as those in previous years, is designed to provide businesses, organizations, and individuals the opportunity to pay tribute to the outstanding women who surround them everyday. The women honored at this annual event not only have demonstrated leadership and strong character, both in their personal and professional lives, but also have made it easier for all women to pursue their career goals.

Proceeds from the dinner will support the YWCA's Women's Support Services which provides counseling and job placement referral to women re-entering the workforce, child development programs that educate parents and promote holistic development of young children, and the YWCA's Bananas Club Program, which offers working parents low-cost and quality daycare after school and during vacation periods. These programs are designed to make it easier for women in business to be successful in their careers.

Companies that participate in the program will draw public attention to the high caliber and important contributions of their women employees, along with providing essential financial assistance for the YWCA's programs and services.

To participate in the program, companies can honor their outstanding women by sponsoring their attendance. Every woman who is sponsored will receive a certificate recognizing her valuable contribution to her field of endeavor.

Employers can also nominate outstanding female employees for the Outstanding Achievement Awards that each year are presented to a small number of women who have distinguished themselves as truly outstanding.

The annual event will kick off with a reception at 6 p.m. at Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort and will be immediately followed by dinner and the awards presentation at 7 p.m. in the resort's Grand Ballroom. Prominent businesswoman, Betty Lindquist of Lake Bluff, will be the keynote speaker.

Persons interested in attending the dinner or nominating women for the Women of Achievement awards, should call Nancy Becker, coordinator of the event, at the YWCA (312) 662-4247.

CUB Unveils Reforms

The Citizens Utility Board (CUB) has proposed sweeping legislative reforms that could save Illinois ratepayers $5.4 billion over the next five years and put the state on the cutting edge in the field of utility regulation.

CUB, a 170,000-member statewide utility watchdog, unveiled its package of five key legislative proposals, designed to protect consumers in the wake of deregulation of the telephone industry, to give ratepayers more voice in the regulatory process and to make utilities more accountable for their actions.

"Our legislators have a chance to save the average Illinois citizen as much as $100 a year—if they act now," CUB Executive Director Susan Stewart said.

"Dramatic changes are taking place in the telephone, electric and gas industries, and our proposals would put Illinois on the cutting edge in meeting these challenges and in providing protection for consumers," she said.

CUB's legislative package includes a proposal to restrict the implementation of Local Measured Service (LMS), the system in which local phone calls are billed in the same manner as long distance calls—by time of day, distance and length of the call.

Under CUB's proposal, the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) would be required to conduct a referendum to allow individual communities to decide whether they want LMS or flat rate pricing for local phone calls.

If communities choose LMS, phone companies would be required to provide an untimed calling zone that would allow customers to make a majority of their local calls on an untimed basis.

Other proposals in CUB's legislative package, include: — requiring the ICC to exclude from rates costs associated with construction of unneeded power plants. — creation of a "Decommissioning Trust Fund" to assure that funds collected in today's rates for the future dismantling of nuclear power plants are available when the plants are shutdown. — creation of a "Consumer Intervention Fund" to help public interest groups challenge rate hikes. — requiring all utility advertising to carry a disclaimer explaining whether the ad is being paid for by ratepayers.

The bulk of savings over the next five years would result from excluding from rates the costs associated with unneeded power plants. Additional future savings could be seen as a result of setting aside decommissioning funds currently being collected from ratepayers.

Lake County Gets Monies For Emergency Food, Shelter

Lake County has been chosen to receive $47,761 to supplement emergency food and shelter programs in the area.

The selection was made by a national board made up of affiliates of national voluntary organizations and chaired by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

United Way of America will provide the administrative staff and function as fiscal agent. The board was charged to distribute $20 million appropriated by Congress to help expand the capacity of food and shelter programs in high-need areas around the country.

A local board made up of the county board, United Way of Lake County, Red Cross, Catholic Charities, Salvation Army, Jewish Family and Community Services, Lake County Community Action Project and Illinois Dept. of Public Aid will determine how the funds awarded to Lake County are to be distributed among the emergency food and shelter programs run by local service organizations in the area.

The local board is responsible for recommending agencies to receive these funds and any additional funds available under this phase of the program.

Under the terms of the grant from the national board, local government or private voluntary organizations chosen to receive funds must: 1) be non-profit; 2) have an accounting system and conduct an annual audit; 3) practice nondiscrimination; 4) have demonstrated the capability to deliver emergency food and/or shelter programs; 5) and if they are a private voluntary organization, they should have a voluntary board.

Qualifying organizations with an interest in participating in the program are urged to send a representative to a special conference which will be conducted by the local board on Friday, April 11, at 8:30 a.m., at the United Way of Lake County, 2835 Belvidere Rd., Waukegan.

The program will be explained in detail at the conference. Application packets will be made available to interested organizations.

For further information, contact the United Way of Lake County at (312) 662-3580.

You're a guaranteed winner with our new, exciting Grand Slam CD...you can bank on it!

Simply pick your favorite Chicago baseball team, the Cubs or White Sox, whichever you think will have the best winning season...and open a Grand Slam One-Year Certificate of Deposit (C.D.). You'll receive a guaranteed high rate of 7.375% and we'll add extra interest depending on your team's standings at the All-Star Break and at season's end.

If you pick the Cubs, for example, and they have won ten games more than they've lost at mid-year, we'll add ten one-hundredths of a percent — increasing your rate to 7.475%. At the end of the season, that rate will be adjusted upward if the win/loss differential has increased. Plus, should your team win the World Series, we'll add another 25 basis points or ¼ of one percent!

The Grand Slam CD must be opened during April with a minimum deposit of $500. Interest is compounded daily.

Come on! Bank on winning and watch your interest soar. Whatever the record, your bases are covered with our Grand Slam CD. Call 674-3600 for complete details and the address of the Skokie Federal office nearest you.

The rate quoted is available as of April 7, 1986 and is subject to change without notice. This program is not endorsed by the Chicago National or American League Ball Clubs.

Former CLC Student Does Full-Length Video

Hollywood may have Steven Spielberg, but the College of Lake County (CLC) has John Covert. A graduate of CLC, Covert has completed a feature-length video that will be an entry in the Chicago Film Festival.

Titled "No One Innocent," showings are scheduled at the Grayslake campus for Friday, April 11 at 2 p.m., 5 p.m., and 7 p.m. The screenings will be held in the theater in building five.

Covert wrote, directed and edited the production. Adapted from an original short story by Covert, the plot concerns a college student and some valuable movie memorabilia.

Currently a resident of Libertyville, Covert attended and graduated from Grayslake High School. He was active in the CLC theater department in the late 1970's and early 1980's.

Since graduating, the 27-year-old Covert has established a company that produces local commercials and educational and industrial videos.

He hopes to continue to do commercial and industrial production as well as independent feature-length videos.

Genesee To Fly To Oz

"Wizard of Oz" will be presented by the Historic Genesee Theatre and the Potawatomi Theatre Co. on April 18 at 9:45 a.m. and 12:15 p.m. (call early for reservations as these shows are almost sold out) and again on April 19, at noon and 3 p.m.

Performances will be directed by Mark Heller and will be presented at the Genesee Theatre, 205 N. Genesee St., Waukegan. Prices are $4 adults, $3 students, $2.50 groups, military and senior citizens. For tickets call Genesee Theatre Box Office at (312) 336-0428.

Describing the film as a "thriller," Covert shot all the scenes in Grayslake and Libertyville and exclusively used (CLC) actors and actresses. While most movie budgets are measured by the millions of dollars, Covert's production costs were kept under $2,000.

Over 35 Dancing At Country House

"Over 35" dancing began on Sunday, April 6 at 3 p.m., at the Antioch Country House.

Host Bob Koester said "After many requests to provide this kind of entertainment for senior citizens and younger dancers, I have decided to provide the best."

The "New Peptones" dance band will provide the "Big Band music of the 30's-40's and 50's."

This band is well known in Lake and Kenosha County.

Who can visualize Antioch's July 4th parade without seeing this group playing on a float sponsored by a local businessman and member of the band, Bernie Gunty.

When contacted, Gunty said the band has promoted the "Big Band Sound" for years, featuring the music of Count Basie, Benny Goodman, Dick Jurgens, Clyde McCoy and also they sprinkle in a little Dixieland beat to keep everyone's toes tapping.

The slow demise of weekly dances at the VFW Moose Lodges and small lounges is also a good reason for attending.

Art League To Present McMahon

The Lake County Art League is proud to present Franklin McMahon, artist, writer and film maker, at its 7:30 p.m., Monday, April 28 meeting in Waukegan Public Library's second floor auditorium.

This program is partially supported by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency, the National Endowment for the Arts, and the Waukegan Area Arts Council. The meeting is open to the public, with a charge of $2.75 for non-members. Members please wear name tags.

Internationally known McMahon has had articles on Welcomes 'Dragon'

Of all the major warship classes produced by the navies of World War II, the U.S. Navy destroyer escorts were the most numerous and the most diverse in tactical deployment. Five-hundred destroyer escorts were built and almost 500,000 sailors served in the ships through World War II, Korea and Viet Nam. A nationwide search is now in progress to locate former destroyer escort sailors.

The gallant little ships that acted as battleships, are now obsolete—victims of transfer to foreign navies, the scrap yards, or being sunk as targets of modern guns or guided missiles.

More information on the convention or the organization may be obtained from John F. Cullinan, 36235 N. Mill Ct., Gurnee, IL 60031, or by calling (312) 356-2637.

How Dist. 4 Contests Tallied

By JOHN STEINKE
(Political Commentator)

County Board Dist. 4 encompasses Antioch, Avon, Grant and Lake Villa Twp. in western Lake County. It is a solid GOP region.

Grant Twp. possesses the most powerful Republican precinct organization in the county. It is the home territory of Lake County Sheriff Robert H. "Mickey" Babcox of Grayslake. Lake County GOP Chairman Robert P. Neal has characterized Sheriff Babcox as "Mr. Republican of Lake County." Without question, Babcox is the most powerful political figure in the county. He possesses the kind of power that the late Democratic Mayor Richard J. Daley once exercised in Chicago.

In the contested Republican countywide races, the two primary winners easily outdistanced their opponents in Dist. 4. County Board Rep. Donna-Mae Litwiler defeated Wauconda Village clerk Venita L. McConnel for the county clerk's nomination. Sybil Yastrow outpolled Lary Tenpas for the party's nomination for Regional Supt. of Education. Litwiler will oppose Democratic County Clerk Linda Hess in the Nov. 4 election. For Yastrow, the primary election was tantamount to the election because the Democrat has filed for the office.

Here is the total vote for county clerk and regional Supt. of Education of District 4.

DIST. 4 PRIMARY VOTE FOR COUNTY CLERK

Twp.	Litwiler	McConnel	Litwiler %
Antioch	659	401	59.6%
Avon	1,106	925	54.5%
Grant	909	523	63.5%
Lake Villa	524	348	60.1%
TOTAL	3,198	2,197	Majority -
VOTE	(59.3%)	(40.7%)	1,001

Litwiler defeated McConnel by approximately a 3-2 margin. She has been a county board representative from Dist. 4 for the past six years. Sheriff Babcox is Litwiler's political mentor.

DIST. 4 PRIMARY FOR REGIONAL SUPT. OF ED.

Twp.	Yastrow	Tenpas	Yastrow %
Antioch	666	304	68.7%
Avon	1,291	551	70.1%
Grant	884	378	70.0%
Lake Villa	542	271	66.7%
TOTAL	3,383	1,504	Majority
VOTE	(69.2%)	(30.8%)	1,879

Sybil Yastrow is the first woman ever elected Regional Supt. of Education in the history of Lake County politics. Yastrow had the party endorsement and the public support of outgoing incumbent William "Bill" Thompson of Antioch. Mrs. Yastrow ran 10 percentage points ahead of Litwiler in Dist. 4.

April Deer Classic To Give Scouting Tips

Many deer hunters scout for the wrong things at the wrong times, and as a result don't enjoy near the hunting success they should, says Bob Fratzke, Winona, Minn., a nationally-known deer hunting expert who credits most of his success to year-round, thorough scouting.

"The more time you spend in the woods, the luckier you get," he points out. "You will make most of your luck if you go about it right."

Fratzke will be one of several deer hunting seminar speakers at the Wisconsin Deer Classic, to be held April 18-19-20 at the Coliseum, Dane County Expo Center, Madison.

He says that first you must define your goals. "Are you hunting any deer, or bucks only, or trophy bucks only?" he asks. Scouting/hunting locations and techniques can and will vary from one to the other.

"When you know how/where/when deer use various parts of the area they live in, you've taken a big step toward success," Fratzke says. "Too many people try to hunt deer without knowing the terrain well enough. One of the best times to do some productive scouting is right now—in the spring as the snow is melting and before the soil dries."

For a seminar schedule, trophy deer contest information and other details, write to the Wisconsin Deer Classic, 7626 W. Donges Bay Rd., Mequon, WI 53092 or call 414/242-3990 days or 414/242-3530 evenings.

Easter Trip To Tucson Is A Hit For Cub Fans

by ARDEEN HARRIS
(312) 395-2761

This week's column will be a little short, as the Harris women were visiting sunny Tucson, Ariz. over the Easter holidays. Don't ever let a pair of crutches stop your vacation plans, especially if you are traveling by air. The airlines take special care with those who are handicapped.

autographs, but alas, not Ryne Sandberg's.

If you are a bingo fan, and traveling out West, you must stop and play Indian Bingo. The Papago Indians, in Tucson, have a giant bingo hall on their reservation and each regular game is worth $500. The jackpot was $6,000 the night we were in attendance, and there were two winners. Unfortunately the bingo numbers were not right for me, but the ex-you concerned? Summer is just around the corner and I hope something is done before it gets here. State your concerns to Ben Lao, Dept. of Transportation, 1000 Plaza Dr., Schaumburg, 60192. Let me know if you get a reply. I hope to have something to report in next week's column.

A belated birthday wish to Bernard Joseph Olszewski who celebrated his first birthday on March 18. Natalie Madden turned another year older on April 1. Corky Madden will be celebrating her day on April 14. Corky is in the seventh grade at Grass Lake School. Kurt Wagner, Sr. will be celebrating his day on April 11. Happy Birthday to you all!

Pat and Chris Priller will be celebrating their anniversary on April 12. Happy Anniversary!

The Pegasus 4-H club will be having their next meeting on Monday, April 14 at 7:30 p.m. at the State Bank of Antioch.

Don't forget about Kindergarten Round-Up being held at Grass Lake School on Thursday, April 17, and Thursday, April 24. There is a new eligibility requirement for children attending kindergarten for the 1986-87 school year. A child must be five years old on or before Nov. 1, 1986. You must present a birth certificate at the time of registration. If you know of anyone in the district who will have a child in kindergarten next year, please have them call Mrs. Anderson at the school office, (312) 395-1550 for an appointment.

For those of you who have been looking forward to the annual Grass Lake PTO's Las Vegas Night, it has been cancelled.

Antioch baseball tryouts for boys aged 10 to 12, and girls aged 9 to 12, are scheduled for Saturday, April 12 (rain date is Sunday, April 13) at 9 a.m. at the Antioch Upper Grade School. These tryouts are for children who are not presently on a team.

Isn't it great to see the flowers starting to bloom. Remember to call with your news!

Grass Lake News

The first stop when we got off the plane was the Cleveland Indians' winter training camp where the team was playing the Chicago Cubs. If there had to be some good come of being on crutches, it was getting a seat behind the Cubs dugout. The Cubs won 10-9 in the 10th inning. The park was sold out with over 7,500 in attendance, and I think 7,499 of them were Cub fans. What a great ball game for only $3. You could even get citement was worth the trip. There were even bingo machines, which you could play before, after and during the regular bingo games. Just like slot machines!

Gone a week and no answer to my letter to Ben Lao. There are still no signs on the corner of Grass Lake Rd. and Rte. 59 regarding the right hand turn. People have called and said that they have also received warning tickets. Did you write? Are

Former Antioch Woman Becomes Champion Skier

The United States Disabled Nordic Ski Team has just competed in the national championships at Royal Gorge Country Ski Resort in Lake Tahoe, Calif. It was the first time in the history of any Olympic sport where athletes with disabilities competed at the same site during the same period with their non-disabled peers. The significance of this historic event for athletes with disabilities cannot be easily overstated, as it represents the breaking of the "access barrier."

This event also served as the officially recognized North American Nordic Skiing Championships for Disabled Skiers with the full participation of the Canadian national team. Following the championships in California, the United States and Canadian teams left April 5 for Salen, Sweden to challenge the Europeans in the Third World Ski Championships for the Disabled, April 6-18.

With increased training, support and commitment to racing, the United States Disabled Nordic Ski Team will be in its strongest position ever to be competitive with traditional Scandinavian powers.

Leading the women's team is Laura Oftedahl, now living in Alexandria, Va., formerly of Antioch. Laura is the daughter of Ev and Elaine Oftedahl of Antioch.

Kiesgen Prepares Life's New Role

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

Unless the Democrats pull off a miracle in November, veteran district 4 county board member Norm Geary (R-Grayslake) will be joined by newcomer "Char" Kiesgen (R-Fox Lake).

Although a newcomer to elective office, Kiesgen has some definite ideas about what priorities she will bring with her when she takes her seat on the county board.

"Spending is a problem at the county level," Kiesgen said. "I am studying the budget right now and though I don't see any glaring problems with the amount that is being spent, I think a thorough review of what our spending priorities are should be made."

As an example, Kiesgen cited undeveloped forest preserve land that is sitting in Fox Lake. "Before we buy more land, I think we should develop what we have," Kiesgen commented.

One of the most pressing issues the county board will have to deal with in the next few years is how to replace lost revenue sharing money Kiesgen noted. As the federal government contributes less, local units of government - including Lake County - are going to have to make some tough decisions. They will either have to scale back some services or raise local taxes.

Asked what she thinks about the general performance of the current board, Kiesgen said that the only thing that disturbs her is that there are too many people promoting no-growth in Lake County. She was quick to say, though, that she is not proposing that smokestack industries be brought into west Lake County.

Sporting the healthy, ruddy complexion of a true outdoorsman, Char Kiesgen pointed out that, while an advocate of growth and economic development, she believes that it can be accomplished in a manner that preserves the quality of life that is available in west Lake County.

"I have always been an outdoorsy type," Kiesgen said. "After the election was over, I relaxed by going pheasant-hunting with my husband. I love to shoot, trap and am quite a marksman. Sometimes, just a nice walk in the woods can bring on a sense of perspective."

"Rather than changing our area around to fit the needs of major industries, I think we can make the effort to attract the sort of light industries that will fit in with what we have," she continued. "I'm not talking about bringing a Saturn plant out here, but I sure wouldn't hurt to have a few more Baxter-Travenols."

Perhaps the most important thing Kiesgen wants to accomplish is to foster cooperation among the various municipalities of west Lake County. She believes that local chambers of commerce are making progress in this area.

Kiesgen believes that cooperation among the villages could be the keystone in efforts to create the kind of economic development that she envisions for west Lake County. She says that the county could be of tremendous help by offering support services to the area.

"Of course, the request has to come from the municipalities," Kiesgen commented, "but I think that as a county board member, I can take the lead in helping the villages put together a united front. I intend to attend village board meetings throughout the district and to regularly confer with the mayors of the area."

Staying on the same theme for a moment,

Charlotte Kiesgen

Kiesgen commented on the jockeying that has already started in the race for county board chairman. "I don't think that west Lake County has gotten as much as we could or should from the county," she said. "When I am on the board and am approached by candidates for chairman, my first question is going to be, 'What are you going to do for us west of Rte. 45?'"

Kiesgen's fellow Republican candidate for the two open seats in November is Norm Geary. Kiesgen and Geary opposed each other in the primary. She says, though, that citizens should not expect to see the two of them fighting all that often.

"Most business on the board is not all that controversial. I expect that on issues important to Avon Township I will follow Norm's lead and I think that he will show me the same courtesy in matters affecting Grant Township," Kiesgen said. "The only area where I think Norm and I are in significant disagreement right now is on what sort of growth we should have out here."

Laughing, Kiesgen said that at 7 a.m. the morning after the election, Geary called her with congratulations. "I was so tired from the last week of the campaign that after he identified himself I said, 'Norm who?'. But we are going to get together to talk about what we want to do for the area."

Turning to the open split that exists in the Lake County Republican Party, Kiesgen said that she did not know how the rift could be mended. For starters, though, she suggested that it would be good to get more power back to elected committeemen and away from the chairman's (Bob Neal) appointed cabinet.

Though she identifies with the political philosophy of Congressman Phil Crane, the person Kiesgen most admires is John Wayne. "I think that both in his movies and his personal life, John Wayne dealt with problems in a straightforward and courageous manner. When he was fighting cancer, he was so brave in facing it."

One of the reasons that Kiesgen has such definite ideas about what she wants to accomplish is that, although she is a newcomer to elective office, her husband Jack is the Grant Township Road Commissioner and is a former Grant Township Trustee.

"My family has been active in politics and government for a long time," Kiesgen said. "After so many years of being involved through them, I felt that I had something to offer."

Obviously, the voters agreed with that assessment.

Edgar Sponsors Bike Safety Poster Contest

Sec. of State Jim Edgar has announced that his office will sponsor a Bicycle Safety Poster Contest. The contest promotes National Bicycle Safety Month in May and is a cooperative effort of the Secretary of State's Bicycle/Pedestrian Safety Unit and the Illinois State Library.

"Each year more than 1,000 Americans lose their lives needlessly in bicycle-related accidents," Edgar said, "and over 460,000 bicyclists are seriously injured. Even more regrettable is the fact that so many children are accident victims.

"The summer months ahead are a peak period for bicycle activity by young and old alike, and we need to work now to encourage greater awareness of bicycle safety."

Contest information and applications are being made available through each of the state's 696 local library units. The contest is open to all Illinois students in third through eighth grades.

All posters must be 11 inches by 14 inches in size and will be judged according to originality of thought, creativity of design and conformance to contest rules. Students should contact their local library for more information.

Entries will be judged in two categories: third through fifth grades and sixth through eighth grades. Winners will be selected at local, library system and state levels. State winners will be announced at a special ceremony in Springfield. The winning poster will be reproduced and distributed throughout Illinois.

Phone Line Charges To Increase June 1

As part of a plan to keep telephone rates reasonably priced in the future, the monthly supplemental line charges paid by Illinois Bell residence and single-line business telephone customers will increase from $1 to $2 effective June 1.

The adjustment is part of a Federal Communications Commission (FCC) plan, adopted in 1984, to price local and long distance calls closer to the cost of providing each service. It is part of a filing Illinois Bell and other local telephone companies are required to make with the FCC on April 1.

The $2 supplemental line charge will replace part of the subsidy for local telephone lines historically built into out-of-state long distance rates, allowing the long distance rates to decrease.

"The $1 increase will be more than offset by eventual savings for all customers—including those who don't make long distance calls," said Fred K. Konrad, Illinois Bell assistant vice president.

Illinois Bell's multi-line business customers already are paying the full $3.85 per line necessary to replace the subsidy from long distance rates, so no further increase is necessary.

The $3.85 charged by Illinois Bell is among the lowest in the country—well below the $6 charge allowed by the FCC.

"Illinois Bell's charge is considerably less than the national average because our costs of providing service are much lower," Konrad said.

Even with the adjustment, the company's revenues won't change because the $1 increase is offset by the decrease in revenue Illinois Bell receives today from long distance companies.

Konrad said the adjustment will keep local telephone rates down and is a big step toward cost-based pricing, which will prevent the loss of customers who today pay more than their actual service costs.

"Keeping all our customers on the public network by charging fair, cost-based rates is the best way to ensure the continuation of reasonably priced local service," Konrad said.

With Illinois Bell's April 1 filing, the supplemental line charge applied to each Centrex line installed or ordered prior to July 27, 1983, will increase from $2 to $3. Rates for lines installed after this date already include the full $3.85 access charge.

Konrad said the company intends to reduce its own intrastate Centrex rates so that customers will see no change on their bills.

Value Of Snobbery

Members of the Regional Board of School Trustees undoubtedly will be hard pressed to find much merit in two of three school district detachment actions being prepared for their consideration.

Out and out snobbery appears to be the motivation for a group of families in Arbor Vista Subdivision located between Grayslake and Mundelein which are circulating petitions to detach from Warren High School and Woodland Grade School districts to the Libertyville public school districts. One of the reasons given for the Arbor Vista detachment is that the homes "are more like" Libertyville homes than those elsewhere in Warren Township.

An ugly battle is being waged in Stevenson High School District where a group of Lincolnshire residents want to detach in favor of Highland Park-Deerfield. A wide variety of reasons are being advanced by the detachers, all of them boiling down to the fact that they aren't looking kindly upon growth prospects facing the district brought about by the development of Buffalo Grove.

There is much more merit in the petition for detachment formulated by residents of the Millburn area of the Warren District who wish to align the high school boundary with grade school lines, making them coincide with Antioch.

School officials seldom look kindly upon prospects of losing territory and the accompanying loss of tax base. All three detachment actions are being opposed and will be appealed if granted. It will be interesting to see how much credence the trustees put in social position.

The Three-Party System

If the first task of the leader of a political organization is to keep the party unified, then the four-year tenure of Lake County Republican Chairman Bob Neal has been an abysmal failure.

In 1982, Neal took over a divided Republican Party. Since then, his ineffective leadership has allowed the situation to deteriorate to the point that Lake County now has three political parties: the machine Republicans, the reform Republicans, and the Democrats. Bob Neal is the leader of none of them.

The machine Republicans are led by Sheriff Robert H. "Mickey" Babcox. They are interested in building clout, granting favors, and putting absolute control of the county into the hands of a select few. Babcox' followers know that to get along you have to go along - never mind that philosophical nonsense about keeping faith with the electorate.

The reform Republicans are led by District 4 County Board Member Norm Geary. They are the ones getting the health clinics built; the parks and recreation areas developed; and trying to broaden the appeal of the Republican party. They are not above working with Democrats when it suits their purposes.

The Democrats, when led at all, follow Waukegan Attorney Jay Ukena. They make rumblings about good government from time to time, but frequently do not even field candidates outside of the eastern part of the county. The only power they hold is that of forming coalitions with either of the two Republican parties.

The reform Republicans go their own way; the machine Republicans march in lockstep behind Babcox; and the Democrats scramble to get the best deal they can.

Bob Neal is a minor annoyance to the reformers; a pliant figurehead for the machine; and irrelevant to the Democrats. Meanwhile, the division in the Republican Party grows wider.

On March 31, Neal was elected to another two-year term as Republican Party Chairman. He may try to lead over the next two years, but the question is: will anyone follow?

Good Time To Build

Housing was a strong part of the economy last year and it should be even better this year. Even as home construction as a part of the Illinois economy strengthens, construction employment is losing ground.

Illinois housing permits in calendar 1985 totalled 38,265, an increase of 8,105 from 1984, for the third straight year of improvement. Total construction employment for the year increased by 12,700—to 162,600 in 1985 from 149,900 the previous year. The 1985 Illinois construction employment average was 8.7

percent higher than in 1984, but 13.3 percent lower than 1979 and 1980 levels. This is contrary to the rest of the nation which showed increases over 1979, pre-recession levels.

One of the conclusions that can be drawn from these seemingly contradictory statistics is that productivity in the building trades had improved. If this is the case, it's another good reason, along with attractive interest rates, why now is a good time to build a new home or remodel your present one.

Locating New Prisons

It's highly doubtful that a prison ever will be located on the edge of our town or anywhere else in this locality. Prison construction is a two-edged sword, with unemployment economics being as important a consideration as penal needs.

This was made abundantly clear when Gov. James Thompson proposed that two, and possibly three, medium-security prisons be built in Illinois by 1990. Proposed locations for the new prisons all are in or located near pockets of high unemployment.

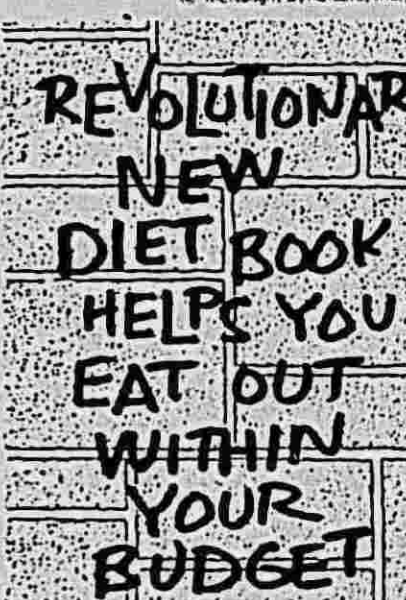

Each new prison would create approximately 400 permanent jobs and create an annual payroll of $10 million a year. Communities actually are competing for the proposed institutions where joblessness is high.

Economic needs are contrary to penal concepts which recommend that prisons be located conveniently to families of inmates to encourage frequent visits which are part of the rehabilitation process. If financing arrangements can be made, it is a virtual certainly that the new prisons will be located in central or southern Illinois. No one around here should argue with this.

Depke Laments Narrow Defeat, 64 Vote Decision

by BILL SCHROEDER

Always the pro, Bob Depke isn't offering any alibis for his defeat for a Lake County Board renomination. "Losing was my own fault. I should have worked harder," the long-time Warren Twp. political leader commented about finishing third in Dist. 5 where two were to be nominated.

With a trace of bitterness, Depke reviewed the spring primary that saw one of his arch political enemies, Supervisor Mike Graham, returning to the body politic that the Warren Twp. supervisor reveres. Depke isn't boasting when he says matter-of-factly that he knows as much about Lake County government as anyone. He does. Without a doubt, he will be missed. The board won't be the same without him come reorganization time in December.

As Bob continued an election postmortem with this writer, he lamented, "I was 64 votes short of becoming chairman again." You have to know Depke to know that this sort of observation isn't wishful thinking or self-aggrandizement. He would have been a top contender for the county's highest elected administrative office.

Depke's straight-forward style and bluntness is both a charm and a downfall. Over the years he has offended voters with his tell-it-like-it-is approach to public office. Bob Depke isn't a wishy-washy type with shadowy ideas. You know where he stands.

Did Depke beat himself? That's hard to believe, even when he puts on the hair shirt himself. He had lousy ballot position. His usual Warren supporters didn't come out in normal numbers. He was mouse-trapped by Graham's exploitation of the open space issue in a district (Warren, Libertyville and Vernon Twp.) where open space is an especially sensitive issue.

Was the 1986 defeat Bob Depke's last hurrah in county politics? Probably not. We asked him about prospects for running for the County Board in 1988. He replied with a crinkly smile. We took that as an affirmative response. Depke will be 58 then, still possessing the youth and savvy to mount a forceful campaign.

FACE TO FACE—Here's a chance to meet your Congressman face to face. Congressman Phil Crane will be available to meet citizens from 1 to 2:30 p.m. Saturday, April 26, at Fremont Public Library, 470 N. Lake St., Mundelein. Crane has a long-standing policy of scheduling sitdown sessions with his constituents at public points throughout the 12th Dist.

NOTHING NEW—Lyndon LaRouche political activity within the Democratic party is nothing new in Lake County, according to Jay Ukena, county Democratic chairman.

In the previous general election year (prior to 1986), Ukena reported that at least 10 persons running for precinct committeeman were running under a LaRouche banner. "They were regarded as ultra-conservatives," Ukena commented to this column.

Now, of course, they are something else on the political scene with two state-wide candidates.

Interestingly enough, Ukena stated that the LaRouche followers didn't increase their numbers in the committeemen ranks in the March primary.

SMOOTH CHANGE—The stage is set for a smooth transition when Village Administrator Bob Trigg of Gurnee decides to retire next year. Trigg's successor likely will be James "Jim" Hayner who will have logged more than 10 years experience as Trigg's understudy and all-around administrator.

Trigg and Allen H. Schertz of Libertyville are neck and neck for the title of dean of Lake County municipal administrators with Ken Marabella of Mundelein not too far behind. These three capable village managers have put the lie to the old criticism that village managing is a "revolving door" situation. Between the three they have more than 50 years experience.

Bob Trigg became Gurnee's first administrator 20 years ago when he decided against moving to Denver with the relocation of Johns-Manville Corp. administrative offices in Waukegan where he was in the accounting department. Instead, he took over as manager of Gurnee's municipal affairs at a time when the village was beginning to grow. Trigg has plenty of experience from his service as village clerk although he has no formal training in village management as do the current generation of managers. Hayner, by the way, is a long-time resident of Gurnee and a 1971 graduate of Warren High.

HELPING HOSPICE—Arthur Wagner, president of Fansteel Inc., is predicting another sell-out for the annual golf and tennis outing at Waukegan's Glen Flora Country Club to benefit the STAR Hospice program at St. Therese Medical Center. Wagner is back again as chairman of the outing set for Monday, July 14. Reservations are going fast at $175 for the affair which winds up with a dinner.

LEADER JOB—State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) has been chosen by the Illinois Assembly Republican leadership to serve as minority spokesman on the House Revenue committee, replacing a downstate legislator who resigned his House seat to run for the Illinois Senate. The appointment is another example of how the Grayslake attorney is moving up in the rank of GOP leadership in the General Assembly.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—Pop hopes that one recreational activity of the younger generation isn't catching on. That's the practice of "TPing," an exercise designed to turn the landscape white with toilet paper. This sport used to be confined to school grounds at homecoming time. Usually, the frosh have to clean up. Now it is spreading to private homes. We woke up recently to view a TP blizzard from the night before. Harmless fun, no doubt, but there are no longer any freshmen in our house.

Letter To The Editor:

'Old' Politics

Editor:

I read with a good deal of amusement, John Steinke's "First of a Series" blurb of old Republican news. I'm not aware of whether he was in attendance for the Republican Lake County convention at the Swedish Glee Club, but if he was he should be aware that all of his comments could come under the heading of OLD and I use the term loosely "NEWS".

There had been various political groups working diligently for their respective candidates during the primary, but those at the convention saw Donna Litwiler and Venita McConnel illustrate by their magnanimity and unity why the Republican party is so strong.

John, you should follow the example of these two ladies. Put the sleeping dogs to rest and get on with the news of the day.

Editor's note: Furman is an Antioch Township Republican precinct committeeperson. She was elected March 18 after filling the post through appointment.

Family

Eimerman's Love Their 'Dome Sweet Dome'

by GLORIA DAVIS

When a young family is deciding on the style of the house they want to build, it is sometimes a three-sided and most often a four-sided question.

In the case of the Eimerman family of Lake Villa, that choice became a 10-sided one when they finally settled on the decagon style of a geodesic dome prefab house designed and manufactured by Oregon Dome, Inc., out of Eugene, Ore.

Anyone who drives past the intersection of Grand Ave. and Woodhead Dr., at the beginning of the Deep Lake Shores Subdivision, would have a hard time not taking note of the unusual house on the northwest corner.

The Eimermans obviously have a taste for the unusual, at least in homes, but upon investigation, one finds that continual economy was probably the most important reason behind their decision to build a passive solar dome home.

After seeing a picture layout of their present home in an issue of Better Homes and Gardens, Herb Eimerman flew to Eugene to take a look at their dream home in person.

It didn't take long for him to decide that this was the perfect house for his wife Connie and his seven-year-old son Herbie and himself.

Just a short time after the paper work was complete, the foundation dug and the main floor laid, trucks from Oregon arrived in Lake Villa bearing 60 triangular shaped sections that were designed to turn into a dome home with the magic of many helping hands and just eight hours.

That's how long it took to put the outer shell up with the help of Herb's brother Jim, friends and many, many strangers who were just fascinated by what they saw, stopped to gape and spent all day giving a hand here and there where needed.

Last November, the Eimermans moved into the nearly finished product, 1,847 square feet (without the basement) of bright angled splendor, with a curved, domed living room, diningroom and kitchen, (laid-out in the great-room style), two bedrooms and a bath on the first floor and one large balcony type bedroom and bath on the second.

The openness of the design and the large amount of glass, which includes three skylights, gives a feeling of spaciousness.

Although the price tag on the prefab, in the area of $80,000, shows it is no bargain basement special, the figures on their utility bills would please even the most miserly.

Because of the domed design, the six-inch insulated curved walls (no wasted corners), the fact that all the double-paned glass is on the south side of the house, and the heatilator fireplace (along with ceiling fans that circulate both warm and cold air), their most expensive gas bill last winter was $45.

That paid for their heat, and the use of a gas dryer, cooking stove and hot water heater.

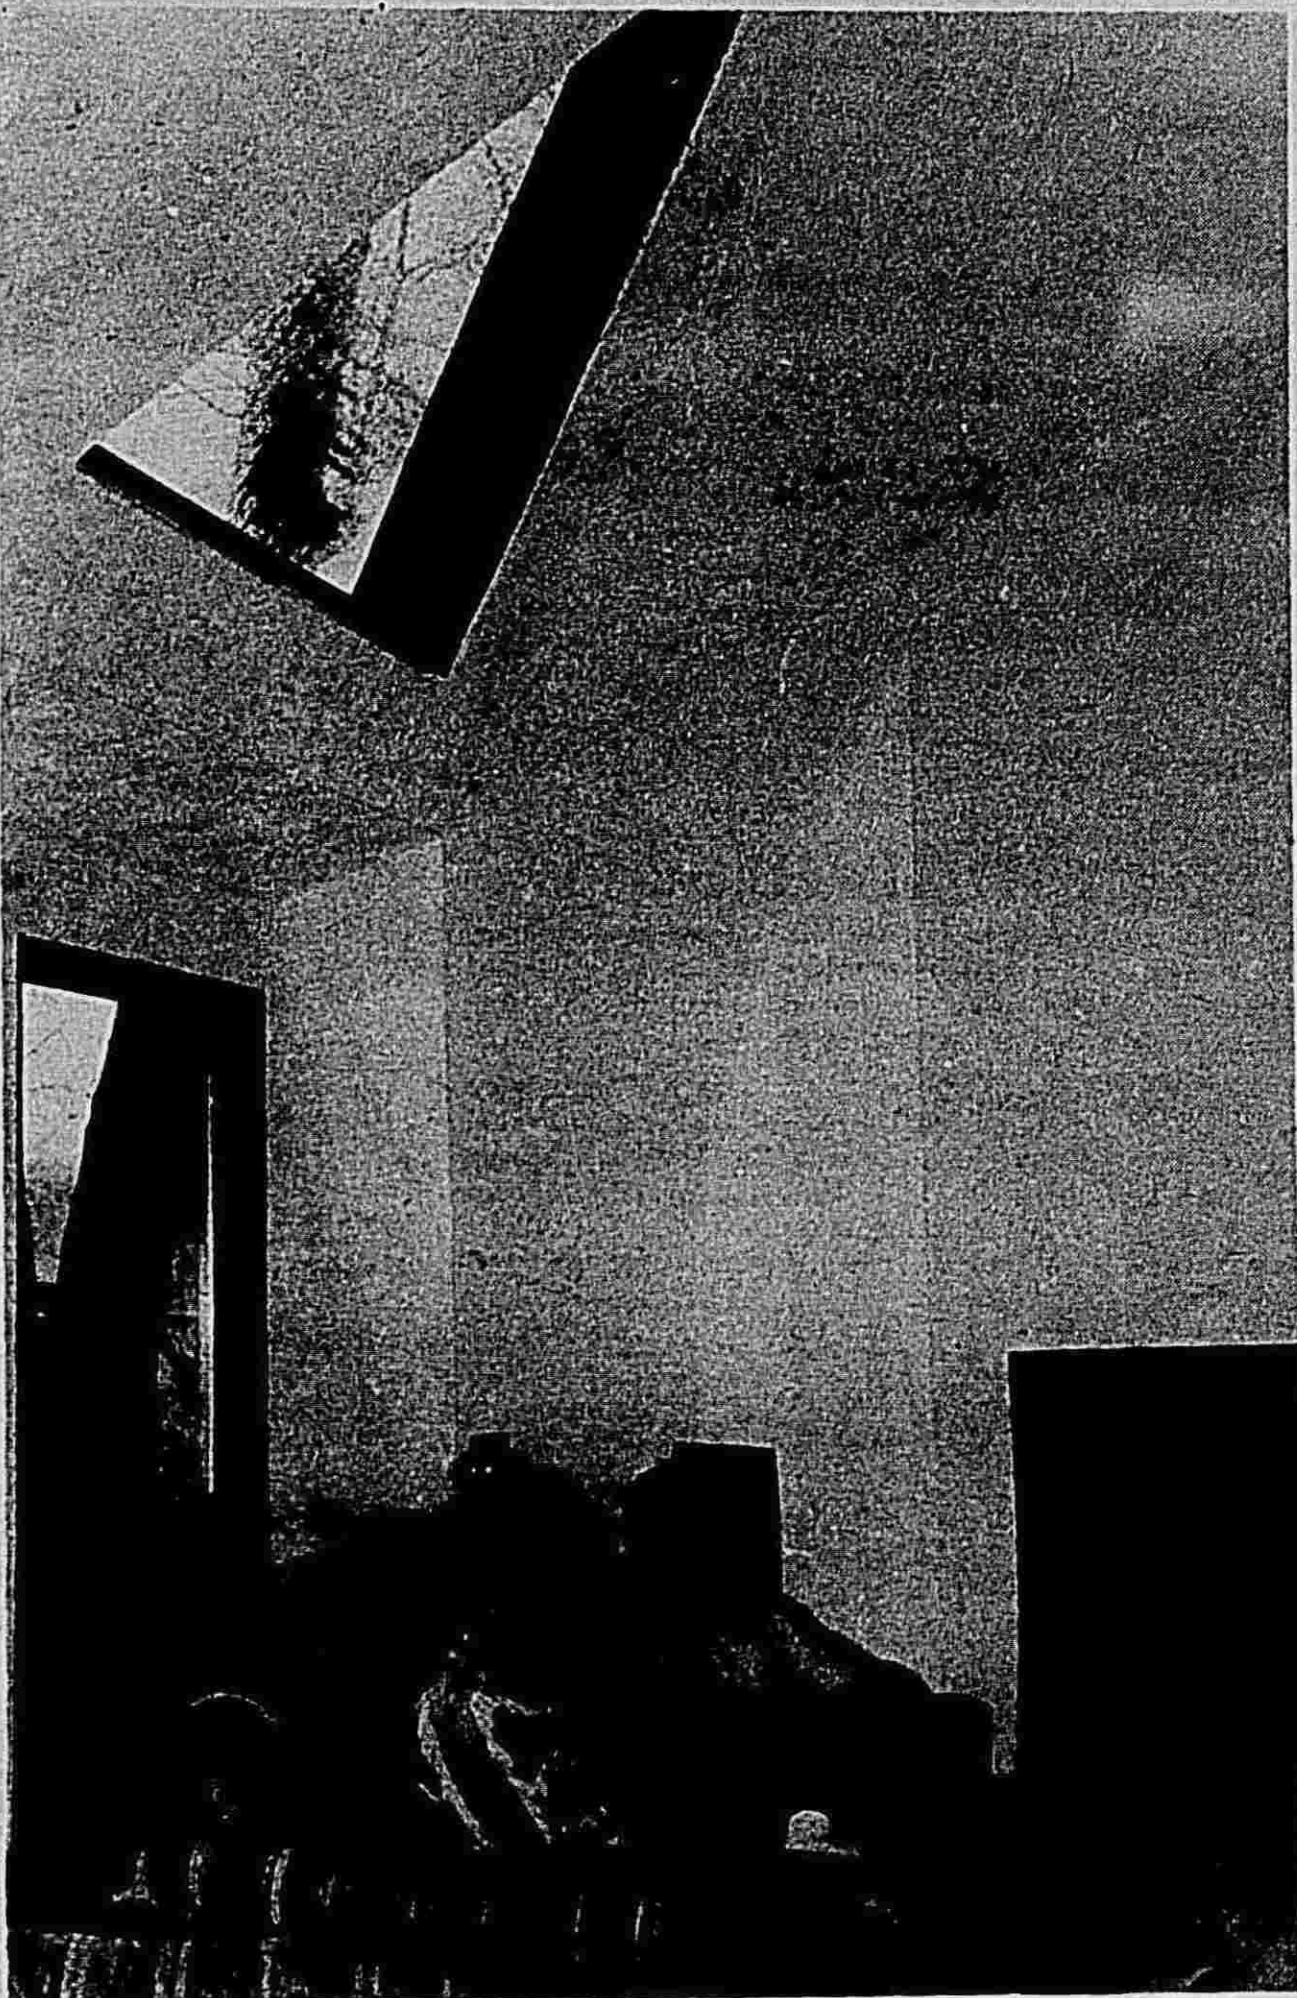

"We usually keep it between 70 and 72 degrees," said Connie, adding that the sunlight keeps the house warm in the daytime, the fireplace in the evenings and the furnace seldom clicks on before 2 a.m. when it's cold.

They plan to open the skylights and have the reversed fans draw out the warm air to cool the house this summer.

The cedar shake shingled roof drops to the ground to form five of the 10 walls and the remaining walls are covered in cedar siding.

They intend to add a diagonal garage near the front door. The design of the garage will overlap the front entrance, forming an airlock entrance, adding to the house's energy efficiency.

About that entrance, the front door is also unique, equating with the design of the rest of the building, a fact noted by this reporter upon leaving. The door at the main entrance is emblazoned with a tree carving done with a computerized lazer beam.

Progress Comes Full Circle, Old Revisited

"Progress is our most important product," one manufacturer bragged before changing its slogan.

Sometimes progress comes full circle and the new is really the old revisited.

A case in point: orange juice. A so-called new product: OJ with "juicy bits."

Pilot Light GREG MELIKOV

One carton brags: HOME STYLE with juicy bits of orange. Another carton boasts: Country Style, more juicy bits of orange.

OJ, I counter, with more pulp. You know the kind - your mom got the same results squeezing fresh orange juice.

When the electric juicer was in its infancy, I recall Jerry Lewis doing a very funny bit with a machine gone berserk in one of the flicks with Dean Martin. His hand ended up looking like the mummy's because the juicer wouldn't shut off.

The home or country style OJ is to my liking. It comes in handy when cooking.

I also take advantage of processed orange peel, which is pared, dried and milled, that comes in little spice jars. It beats grating the rind by hand.

Oranges can flavor vegetables, such as carrots. The juice can produce a zesty dressing, especially for fruited chicken salad.

Orange Dressing

1/4 cup mayonnaise
1/4 cup sour cream
3 tablespoons orange juice, with juicy bits
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
1 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
Mix all ingredients in small bowl and serve over salad.

Orange-Dilled Carrots

2 cups pared, sliced carrots
1 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 teaspoon dried dill weed
2 oranges, sectioned or in bite-size pieces
1/2 teaspoon grated orange peel

In medium saucepan, cover carrots with water, add 1/2 teaspoon salt, bring to boil, cover with lid, reduce heat, simmer about 15 minutes and drain. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt, butter and remaining ingredients, stir over low heat several minutes. Serves four.

Do You Know Where Your Dog Came From?

by CHARLENE WHITNEY

Based on fossil records and a result of years of research, it is believed that today's dog descended from the wolf.

The wolf evidently evolved in North America and migrated to Asia across land at what is now the Bering Strait.

Over thousands of years their bodies gradually developed in different ways to survive in different parts of the world. The North American wolf became large and the Asian wolf small.

Returning to North America, probably with the first humans who crossed the Bering Strait, were animals between wolf and dog. It is believed the wolves followed hunters when the hunters left behind scraps of food. Thus, the wolf overcame his fear of humans.

People found the wolf to be useful. It could lead the hunters to prey and warn them of danger. Therefore, young wolf pups were taken from the wild and raised by hand.

There are no records, but scientists have studied ancient relics and cave paintings to understand the way wolves were domesticated.

Domestic dogs have shorter muzzles and smaller teeth than the wolf. The forepart of the dog's brain is larger, also. These characteristics began to appear in fossils dating from 10,000 years ago. These fossils have been found throughout China and the near East. By about 6,000 years ago, the domestic dog had emerged and most of the wolf characteristics had gone.

Wolves adjust to people easily and are extremely social animals. Wolves are used to working together and the domestic dog changed even more. No longer were they just used for hunting. Many dogs were trained to guard sheep and cattle from wolves and other predators.

There are more than 400 different kinds of domestic dogs kept as pets. Most scientists believe that every one of them descended from the wolf.

Many people who hate wild dogs love domestic dogs. Characteristics people like most about their dog, such as intelligence and loyalty, come from their wild ancestors.

Interfaith To Refocus

Interfaith Community Services, Inc., completed program changes on April 1 as part of plans that will enable the organization to refocus on its chaplaincy roots and establish stronger relationships with county churches.

Interfaith, with the cooperation of Region Two Area Agency on Aging and United Way of Lake County, transitioned its Meals-With-Wheels program to Catholic Charities this week.

Catholic Charities will operate the home-delivered meals program out of its senior citizen centers network. Interfaith began the Meals-With-Wheels program in 1965, utilizing the support of individuals and churches to respond to a community need.

The program currently serves 170 meals a day, including special diets, across Lake County and relies on a corps of dedicated volunteers to deliver the hot, noonday meal.

The agency will continue its sponsorship of the Chain-of-Lakes Senior Services program in western Lake County, though without the home-delivered meals service portion. This program will continue to provide transportation, telecare and friendly visiting services to the elderly.

Interfaith (formerly The Chaplaincy Service) seeks to realign its service delivery along chaplaincy lines to better respond to the emotional and spiritual needs of the institutionalized.

The organization was created as a non-denominational ministry that would extend and represent the caring and compassion of the Lake County religious community. Over 60 churches and thousands of individuals have contributed their support since Interfaith's beginning.

Spinning off its strong social service programs will enable Interfaith to expand its present chaplaincy programs at Winchester House, Waukegan Developmental Center, and the Lake County Jail, as well as work with churches to define and respond to new avenues of ministry.

The chaplaincy program at Winchester House expects to soon receive accreditation as a program qualified to train ministerial students from various religions in clinical pastoral education. This will be the only program of its kind in the United States training ministers to work with nursing home residents.

Now Adults Too Can Be 'Students' Of Exchange

Adults have always been a bit envious of the youth exchange programs wherein American students get to visit exotic foreign places for a minimum of cash, and spend time learning about these places from their source by staying with local families.

Now the same sort of travel experience is available to anyone who is interested in not only seeing other countries, but establishing personal friendships abroad on a one to one basis.

The Friendship Force of Northern Illinois is a non-profit, non-sectarian, non-political private citizens' exchange with other nations throughout the world that makes peace emissary efforts by trying to make friends personally with people of other nations.

Many members then play host to families from other countries, returning their hospitality.

Founded in 1977 by Wayne Smith, Atlanta, with Rosalyn Carter as honorary chairperson, chapters have sprung-up in 43 countries, making the total of international chapters that are active, 238, 105 in the U. S. and 133 in other nations.

Anyone who would like to visit England from May 12 to May 25 for $726 (includes round trip air fare, plus $25 for land transportation) plus a week being hosted by an English family, should call Paul Mesenbrink at (312) 362-7560 or write for applications to Philip Tomlin, 329 Apple Ave., Libertyville, Ill., 60048.

In preparation for the English visit, the Force will hold a meeting (includes an authentic English tea) at 3 p.m., on Sunday, April 13, at 359 Merrill Ct., Libertyville.

This summer the northern Illinois chapter is planning to play host to visitors from the Far East, from July 6-13, to be followed by European visitors from July 22-29.

Anyone caring to help host these visitors should write Charles Imig, 330 n. Winston Dr., Palatine, Ill., 60047.

KLV, A Pleasant Annual 420-Mile Pilgrimage

It's really nice to anticipate, that during the coming eight hours, we will witness the physical arrival of spring...not by the calendar, but by the surging thermometer, the greens of fields and foliage, reds of rosebuds, yellows of jonquils and forsythia and the pinks of sunburn.

Going to Kentucky Lake Vacationland (KLV) in April has become something of a pleasant, annual 420 mile pilgrimage. This year our destination was Southern Comfort Resort, Rt. 4, Box 228CB, Benton, Ky., 42025, on the west shore of Kentucky Lake.

Leaving our 32 degree weather at 7:15 a.m., we were packed for a long weekend. Cruising at highway speed means we passed, or were passed by very few.

Only the tiniest of green shoots had pushed their spring leaf tips through our home garden surface, but as we headed south for eight hours, we watched spring arrive through our car windows.

We anticipated warm sunshine, skimming the big lake in fishing boats and enjoying the gladness and freedom of the outdoors in shirtsleeve comfort...Southern Comfort.

to Kankakee. Then some small shoots of green begin to appear in the grassy midway between traffic lanes.

The big change comes at Effingham, nearly half way to our destination. Smooth level farmlands switch to rolling countryside. Trees become more frequent and larger, the valleys deepen and hills climb higher. Marked geographical changes occur as southern Illinois surrounds us.

Spring colors emerge rapidly in greater abundance as we swing onto I-24, heading toward the Ohio River and Kentucky.

Passing the "Welcome to Kentucky" sign on the far side of the river, redbud trees show beginning blossoms and jonquils sway in the strong southern breeze...we were in the low 60's. Western Kentucky is best known as Kentucky Lake Vacationland. Here natural beauty is summarized by the slogan "For the Good Time, Naturally," because it is a natural outdoor area which combines scenic vacation with friendliness.

April and May daytime temperatures run in the 60 to 80 range. In addition to hiking and general sightseeing, Kentucky Lake is famous for the spring crappie run. Spawning is just getting underway, so females will be laying eggs and the males helping to guard the nests...it's a super time for angling. A daily limit of 60 fish is more than adequate, especially since these one-to-two pound "slabs" run to greater size here than anywhere else we have fished.

The Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) offers Land Between the Lakes. It's a 170,000 acre outdoor educational and recreational center with visitors displays, camping facilities, period homesteads, a buffalo herd, nature centers and other things that can fill a full visiting day. Details of the KLV area are available by writing KLV, Box 145 CB, Benton, Ky. 42025, or phone 1-502-443-5383.

Award Warden Holm

Lake County Health Dept. Animal Control Warden Ron Holm has won the quarterly outstanding service award of the Illinois Animal Control Assn. (IACA). The award was presented by William Fridel, Awards Committee Chairman of the IACA, at a ceremony held at the Animal Shelter in Wauconda.

In October, Holm successfully rescued a young deer stranded in approximately five feet of water in a holding pond at the Commonwealth Edison Waukegan Plant.

The animal had followed the water current into the pond and then could not free itself. The deer was in danger of drowning as the water level was due to rise.

Warden Holm responded to the call made to the Lake County Health Dept. Animal Control Program and he carefully and humanely removed the animal and set it on its way.

Holm also received a certificate of appreciation from the City of Waukegan for his assistance in apprehending a dog pack on the Waukegan lakefront. The award was presented by Chief Warden Angelo Ferrand.

Holm has been an animal control warden with the Lake County Health Dept. for four and one-half years.

"We are pleased and proud that Warden Holm was chosen to receive the IACA award and the Waukegan Certificate of Achievement," said Steven R. Patsic, M.D., M.P.H., executive director of the Lake County Health Dept.

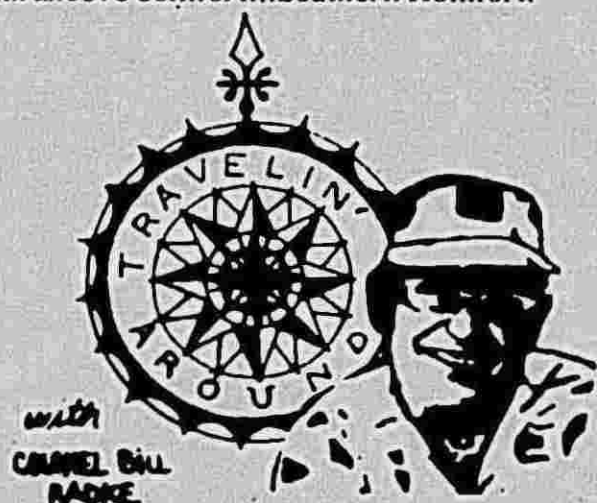

"He has demonstrated and has been recognized for distinguished service to the citizens of Lake County," he added.

Pick-Off Play

Former State Qualifiers To Return To MHS Girls Track

When it comes to competition, Mundelein girls' track coach knows that the Lady Mustangs will provide a lot of it as the spring season gets rolling.

Although the team lost three of last year's seniors, all seven state qualifiers from last season are back and ready to go.

The girls' track team held their first meet of the year on April 8 against Niles North. They will face Antioch in a second meet on Thursday, April 10.

Among the top returning runners is hurdler Pam Kinkelaar, who has an undefeated conference record in that event for two straight years. Down state last year, she also participated in the 100-meter and 200-meter events.

Also on the team is

Stephanie Hertel, who was undefeated in long-jumping last year in conference and participated in both long-jumping and the 800-meter relay placing her fifth in state.

Among the returning seniors who qualified for state last year are Sue Stegmeier, quarter mile;

Cindy Wallace, sprinter; Laura Cimfel, sprinter; juniors include Carrie Fuller, 800-meter, and Lisa Robinson, shotput.

Newcomer to the team is senior Laura Boatright, a sprinter who established a track record as a freshman, and is returning to the team after a two-year hiatus.

Grayslake Starts NWSC League Play

by DANG O'SHEA

The Grayslake Rams pitching staff didn't appear too strong in opening games as the Rams gave up 37 runs in losing two of their first three.

Grayslake was scheduled to open play in the Northwest Suburban Conference this week, playing Lake Zurich and Round Lake. The Rams also host Mundelein Thursday, April 10 in a non-conference contest and play Wheeling in a doubleheader on Saturday, April 12 in another matchup. They return to conference play Monday, April 14 against Marian Central.

The Rams started off their season with a non-conference game against Waukegan West on April 2. Grayslake lost 11-5 and allowed 14 hits. The game was scheduled for April 1 but was postponed because of rain.

Grayslake took the field for the second time on April 3 and was clobbered by the Carmel Corsairs 16-7. Grayslake starter Kelly Bye gave up nine runs, including eight in the second inning. The senior righthander was taken out in the third inning and replaced by Jeff West, another senior righthander. West was later relieved by Jose Perez.

Jason Kelley went 4-for-4 for the Corsairs including a double and two triples, and had four runs batted in. Teammate Steve Bruns had two hits. Both attended St. Gilbert School in Grayslake. Tom Castino had a three-run double for Grayslake in the second inning to give the Rams their first runs.

Grayslake won its first game of the year at Warren on April 4. The 9-8 victory started off well for the Rams as they scored three in the first inning. Junior Mike Langer started on the mound and got the win. Sophomore Shawn Mauritz and Castino pitched in relief. Bye had three hits and two RBIs.

ACHS Hopes To Better 1985 Softball Record

Developing his team's potential is the number one priority of Antioch High School's girls' softball coach, Mike Gordy. The girls were set to open their current season against the Mundelein Wildcats last Tuesday, April 8.

Returning lettermen, pitchers Jeri Gutowski and Denise Maple, are part of the reason Gordy, who is new to the head coach's job, has a very optimistic outlook on the team's final North Suburban Conference record.

Other returning lettermen are seniors Kim Alfano, Dori Harp, Marie Marvelas and Beth Dubek.

But the '86 Sequoits have their work cut out for them if they intend to give a better showing than the '85 team did, since last year's team holds the best record ever achieved by any Antioch Softball team.

The girls play their games at Polly Field, at the intersection of Grass Lake and Deep Lake Rds.

On the team, before the final cut, were also Kris Christensen, Caroline Exner, Debbie Henning, Lisa Heltrick, Cindy Lessard, Sue nauman, Michelle Pavelski, Julie sexton, Debbie Sigler and Karen Stevens.

Sequoit Tracksters Improve

The Sequoit boys' track team had its first track meet when they took on Woodstock in a non-conference event on April 8.

North Suburban Conference competition starts on Thursday, April 10, when Antioch will compete with Mundelein on the Sequoits' home turf.

On Saturday, April 12, Antioch will travel to the Stevenson Relays to compete against nine other teams. The events are all relay events. There will be no individual competitions.

Last season, Antioch finished in the middle of the conference, fifth out of 10 teams.

Sequoit Coach Norm Hahn expects to better that by at least two places this year.

"We're a year away from being top contenders but our returning seniors and juniors have been working together so we should make a good showing this year," he said.

Hahn expects Zion, Libertyville and Stevenson to be the strongest NSC competitors.

That good showing should be the result of the efforts of returning lettermen: Jamie Zoephel, sprint-400; John Staerk, 800-relays; Bob Johnson, shot put-discus; Tom Durell, long jump-sprints and Bill Mirowski, pole vault.

Hahn has 22 juniors coming up, giving the team promising depth.

Bowlers Roll To Victory

The Lake County Women's Bowling Assn. has just completed a most successful tournament. On opening day, March 1, the honorable Paul Neal, mayor of Libertyville, was on hand to roll out the first (and second) ball. Ralph Giss, former sports editor of the Independent Register, was presented with a plaque honoring his dedication to the sport of bowling.

Altogether there were 128 teams, 235 doubles and 469 singles competing for three and one half weekends. A record was broken at Libertyville lanes when Karen Fox rolled a 692 scratch, the highest three-game series ever rolled by a woman at these lanes.

High in the teams was a squad from Northbrook, L. & M Catering, rolling a 3117 handicap with a 2679 scratch series. Low to collect in the teams: 2837. High in the doubles was the combination of Monika Walraven and Becky Sowers from Great Lakes, rolling a handicap of 1362 with a scratch of 1131. Low to collect in the doubles: 1174. High in the singles was Karen Fox from Libertyville, rollin a 752 handicap and 692 scratch. Low to collect in the singles: 592.

All checks will be available to the winners, plus their trophies and patches, at the Annual Meeting to be held at the Libertyville Twp. Office on Tuesday, April 15, starting at 8 p.m.

Lancers Open In Fine Fashion

By John Phelps

The College of Lake County men's tennis team opened the 1986 season in fine fashion with a victory over the Wright Rams.

Individual victors for CLC were No. 1 singles Dave Klein's 6-1, 6-3 drubbing over Chris Meske. No. 2 singles Fred Acosta 6-1, 6-3 over Greg Teogru, and what was considered the turning point in the match according to Head Coach Lance Laverty, No. 4 Mark Nordby def. his Wright opponent 5-7, 6-2, 6-3.

In doubles action, No. 1 Klein and Acosta were victorious, while No. 2 Lonnie Grote and Nordby and No. 3 Dave Boyke/Bob Luth suffered losses.

According to coach Laverty, the team has high hopes of winning the Skyway Conference this year. This is evident as the coach stated, "We have a lot of depth this year. Another plus is the fact that we have seven solid players who have high school backgrounds (tennis)."

New And Returning Runners Start Off WHS Track Season

Wauconda High School boys' track coach Tom Gallivan is not making any predictions about the Bulldogs, but plans to "let the kids run and see how they do" as track season gets underway this spring.

The first meet is April 16 against Marengo and Grant. The team boasts six returning lettermen, including distance runners Mike Thirtle and Keven Wehte, both seniors.

Also back this year is senior Ray Kotty, who will compete in shotput and discus events, and juniors Tony Fout, a sprinter, Pat Schaller, competing in 400- and 800-meter events, and hurdler Ken Mrozek.

Newcomers to the team will be senior high jumper Phil Elwell, and Kyle Eckmann, a senior hurdler and discus thrower, and a number of underclassmen.

As far as team strength goes, Gallivan expects the team to do well in distance competitions.

Q: I'm losing distance on my tee shots and hitting the ball too high. Can I correct this without reworking my whole golf swing?

A: It sounds as though you have developed the habit of an inverted weight shift, sometimes called a reverse pivot. This simply means that your weight is never actually transferred to your back foot (or left side) as you take the club back. If you check yourself you may even find that during the backswing your weight actually shifts to your front foot. You must correct this if you are to obtain maximum distance on any shot, and you will have to make a deliberate effort, consciously feeling where your weight is as you swing the club. The best method of training yourself to let your weight shift back naturally during the backswing is to allow your head to move slightly sideways in line with the motion of your body. I do not mean that your head should be pulled up from its position at address, only slightly toward the side and never beyond the point of your back foot position. You will need to practice this slight motion and feel the weight transfer during the backswing, but the practice time will be well spent. You will stop sky popping those tee shots and your distance will improve.

Conservation Dist. Trying To Keep Lakes Weedless

In 1986, the Lake County Soil and Water Conservation Dist. will continue its effort to provide professional counsel in lake and pond management. Since correct fish stocking is an integral part of proper lake management, the district is offering its fourth annual Fish Sale Program.

There will be a number of sales offering a variety of species and sizes of fish. The purpose of the fish sale is to assist pond owners, lake associations, park districts, sportsman's clubs, etc., in stocking their lakes and ponds. The first sale will be conducted on Saturday, May 3 at the Lake County Fairgrounds in Grayslake.

Five species of fish will be available through the district. Four of the species will be offered at the first fish sale May 3. The four species are largemouth bass, hybrid sunfish, channel catfish and fathead minnows. The fifth species of fish is the triploid white amur, which has recently been legalized by the Illinois Dept. of Conservation, to control nuisance aquatic vegetation. The triploid white amur will be offered at a special sale to be announced. The district will, however, be taking advanced orders for white amur and then notify customers of the sale date.

The white amur is considered to be the most effective biological control of nuisance aquatic weed control. An extensive study performed by the Illinois Natural History Survey concluded that, with respect to cost effectiveness, the white amur are "clearly superior to chemical controls if the comparison is made over the long term (i.e. five to 10 years); and the particular species of plants to be controlled are both relatively dominant and palatable."

The stocking rates for white amur are dependent upon the extent of aquatic weed cover in the lake. For more information on the triploid white amur, or to place an order, contact the district office.

Largemouth bass will be available in the 5-inch to 8-inch category at the first sale. This fish is considered by any to be the most popular sport fish. They are the chief predator fish found in most Illinois ponds and lakes. Adult bass feed primarily on fish, crayfish, large insects and tadpoles. Largemouth bass usually spawn when they reach nine to 12-inches long. The maximum stocking rate for new or renovated ponds is 50 to 100 fish per acre. Consult with the district office if stocking into a pond with an existing fish population. Smaller sizes of bass may also be available later in the season. If smaller bass are desired, contact the district office.

Hybrid sunfish will be available in two size categories, two to three inches long, and three to five inches long. This hybrid is the result of crossing a male bluegill with a female green sunfish. The hybrid sunfish will not overpopulate a pond, as often happens with bluegill, causing a stunted fish population. The hybrids also exhibit faster growth, a larger size and a higher "catch-out" rate than do bluegill. Hybrids are a good stocking combination with "trained" largemouth bass and channel catfish, because all three will readily accept artificial feed, which will enhance their growth. Maximum stocking rates for a new or renovated pond is 500 to 1,000 per acre. It is not recommended that hybrid sunfish be stocked into a pond with an existing bluegill population.

Channel catfish can be purchased in three different size categories, four to six inches long, six to eight inches long and eight to ten inches long. The channel catfish is not only a very good food fish, but also is considered to be a popular sport fish. Contrary to belief, channel catfish will not "muddy" a pond, as do bullheads and carp. Catfish are considered to be a predator species and will feed on a variety of items, including fish, crayfish, insects, frogs, snails, clams, etc. Maximum stocking rates are 200 to 300 fish per acre if artificial food is added. Otherwise, 100 channel catfish per acre should be planted. Channel catfish will not reproduce in most ponds, so they will have to be periodically restocked. Larger catfish may also be available throughout the season.

Fathead minnows are excellent forage fish for largemouth bass and channel catfish. These minnows are highly vulnerable to bass predation, and usually cannot survive with largemouth bass for more than one or two years. Therefore, fathead minnows must be periodically restocked if largemouth bass are present.

All fish will be bagged with oxygen for safe transfer. The bags will be of a convenient size so as to be easily transported by car or pickup truck. Free delivery and stocking will be arranged for large orders. Delivery is available on smaller orders for an additional charge.

The deadline for placing orders will be Friday, April 25. For more information, contact the Lake County Soil and Water Conservation Dist. office at (312) 223-1056, between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, or by calling (815) 675-6545 after 6 p.m.

N.I.C.C. Sets Derby Rules

Northern Illinois Conservation Club has announced the rules and regulations for this year's Chain O'Lakes Area Summer Fishing Derby.

The event will start at 12:01 a.m. on Saturday, May 24, and end at midnight on Monday, Sept. 1.

The derby will be conducted on the Fox River from the Wilmet Dam south to the McHenry Dam, and will include all those lakes that are part of or connected to the Chain O'Lakes by rivers, creeks or streams.

Fish will be tagged with the color red, and will have no prize value prior to starting date, or after finishing date, with the exception of being entered in next February's drawing.

All tagged fish are to be turned in at the nearest local claiming station (bait shop) for creel test, dead or alive, all year round, even if the finder hasn't purchased this year's summer fishing derby button. The person will be entered in a drawing which will be held at next year's Ice Fishing Derby in February. Prizes will be awarded in the form of a check for $300, $150 and $50.

Participants must purchase a registration button from one of the authorized claiming stations at least 24 hours prior to turning in this year's tagged fish. Proof of prior registration will be required before qualifying for any of the summer derby prizes.

Fishing clubs having one day or weekend tournaments may call in advance (312) 395-NICC to have a N.I.C.C. representative present at the time of the tournament to oversee and help in the sale of buttons. A button is only valid to that person who purchased it. If lost, a new one must be purchased; no refunds for lost buttons.

Tag numbers, colors, sponsor's name and list of prizes will be posted at the claiming stations. Also, drawing will be held next February.

Entrants must present live fish with tag intact, proof of registration, valid fishing license, if needed, to a claiming station and complete a voucher form in order to claim a prize. The claiming station will notify a representative of the N.I.C.C. who will fill out a duplicate voucher form having the club seal and two authorized N.I.C.C. signatures. This duplicate form will be given to the winner at a later time so that it can be turned over to the sponsor for the assigned prize.

Sportsmen's Honor System plus State of Illinois fishing rules and regulations will apply. Advertising, registration of participants, issuance of registration buttons, claiming and registration stations, tagging and placing of all fish and any other administrative duties, will be the responsibility of the N.I.C.C. Summer Fishing Derby Committee. All findings on rules and regulations, etc., by this committee are final.

Good For Business

The hometown Lakeland Newspapers offer the most comprehensive coverage of local business of any available publication, another reason why reading this newspaper regularly makes sense.

Saving money by using less gas.

THE UNHANDYMAN'S GUIDE TO WRAPPING YOUR WATER HEATER.

Today, one of the best ways to save money is to make sure your home is as energy efficient as possible, so you use less energy.

Wrapping your water heater with insulating materials is one of the quickest ways to reduce your use of gas, especially if it's located in an unheated area.

WHY YOU SHOULD DO IT.

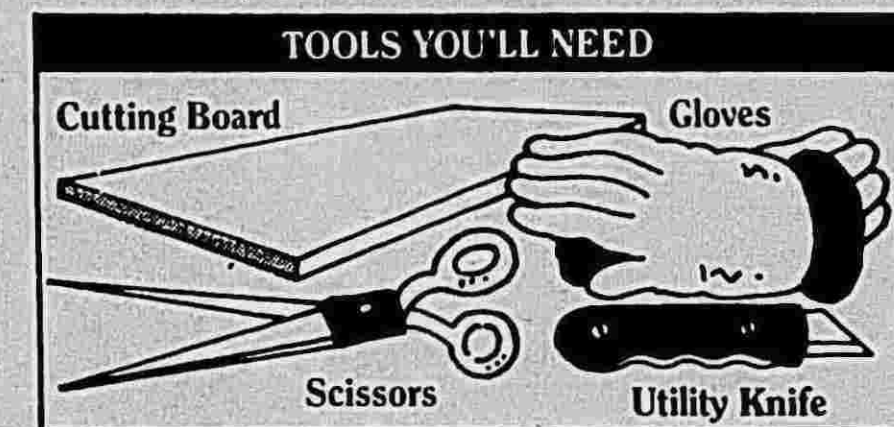

With just an hour of your time and a kit usually costing less than $20, you can cut your annual water heating usage up to 10% by wrapping your water heater. Since heating water is the second largest use of gas energy in your home, bundling up your water heater could pay for itself in less than two years.

Here's an easy way to see if your water tank is costing you money. Give your tank the touch test. If your water tank feels warm when you touch its sides, you should consider insulating it, especially if it's located in an unheated area of your house.

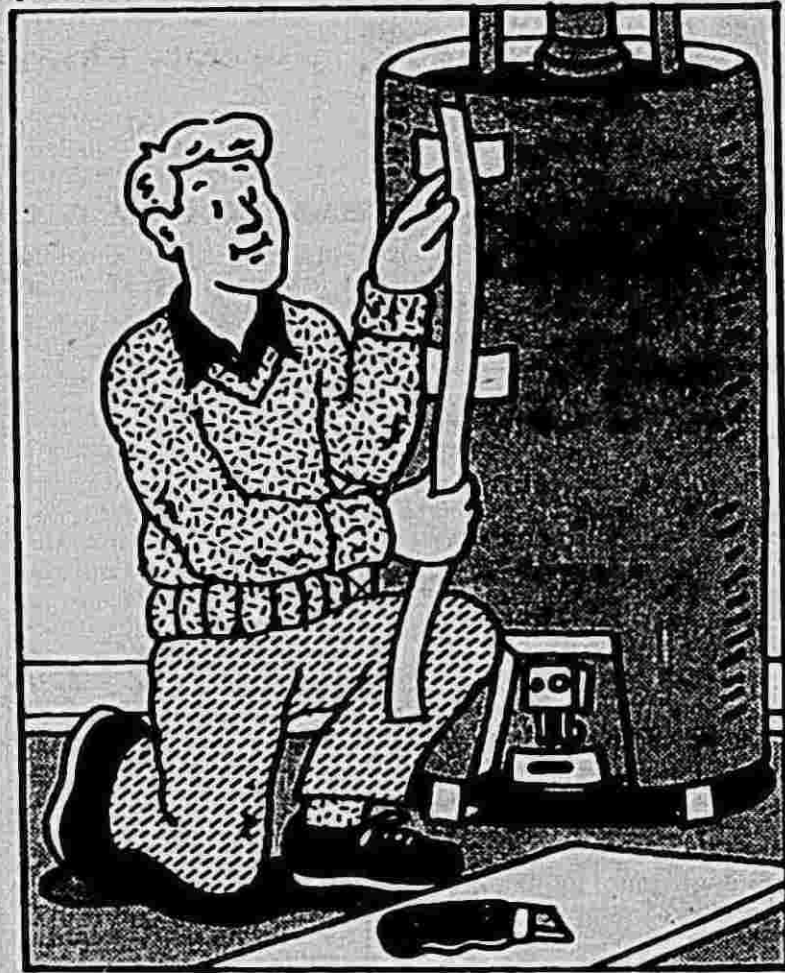

HOW TO DO IT.

Water heater insulation kits are available at most hardware stores. Kits usually include a vinyl-faced fiberglass blanket, tape, and complete, step-by-step instructions that are easy to follow. CAUTION: Do not insulate the top or bottom of your gas water heater. At the top, you may interfere with the draft diverter on the flue.

At the bottom, you may cut off the air supply.

When working with fiberglass, be sure to wear long sleeves and gloves, to prevent skin irritation. You can usually cut the blanket with a large scissors. If you use a utility knife, be sure to do your cutting on a board to avoid damaging your floor.

MAKE THIS A HOT PROJECT.

Unlike some energy saving home improvements, wrapping your water heater will save you money all year long.

So don't delay. Get to work soon, and start saving soon!

Baxter Travenol Laboratories, Inc. recently announced that it was considering divestiture of its two pharmaceutical units as part of a major realignment following the company's recent merger with American Hospital Supply Corp. Young Couples, Singles Like Cambridge Homes

The attached single family Garden Homes of Cambridge Chase are providing young buyers with opportunities for home ownership. And, they're taking advantage of them.

Phil Walters, General Sales Manager of Cambridge Homes, Inc., developers of the community, said the buyers' profiles reveal that 78 percent of the first 200 buyers are under 40 years of age. The majority are in their late 20's or early 30's.

The homes also have an appeal to empty nesters seeking to reduce their home maintenance responsibilities. Some 19 percent of the buyers fall in that category, Walters said.

Sixty percent of the homes planned for the community, located in north suburban Mundelein, just west of the firm's Libertyville community, have been sold. Walters expects that at the current rate of sales the development will be sold out by the year's end.

The one and two-story Garden Homes of Cambridge Chase are brought together at the lot line with an air space in between providing greater privacy than is found in party-wall townhomes.

Cambridge will also build individual Garden Homes on a single family site for anyone who so desires.

Five models are being offered. Two have been especially popular:

—The Carlisle, a ranch home with two bedrooms, one and one-half baths, vaulted ceilings, optional family room and attached garage, totaling 1,024 square feet of floor area and priced from $75,490.

—The Hartwick, a two-story home with three bedrooms, one and one-half baths, vaulted ceilings, attached garage, totaling 1,315 square feet of floor area, priced from $83,990. Another version with an optional family room and a second bath also is available.

The other three models are:

—The Brandon, a ranch home with three bedrooms or two bedrooms and a den, vaulted ceilings, one and one-half baths and attached garage, totaling 1,192 square feet of floor area and priced from $82,490.

—The Suffolk, a two-story home with two bedrooms, one and one-half baths, vaulted ceilings, two story family room and attached garage, totaling 1,236 square feet of floor area and priced from $81,990.

—The Buckingham, also a two-story home with three bedrooms or two bedrooms and a loft, one and one-half baths, vaulted ceilings and an optional second bath, totaling 1,457 square feet of floor area and priced from $88,490.

Homebuyers of the Garden Homes of Cambridge Chase own their own lots and have no association fees to pay. A sodded front yard and seeded rear yard are included.

Each of the models is available in three different exterior elevations to avoid monotony in the community streetscape.

Cambridge Chase is on Butterfield Rd., one and one-quarter miles north of Rte. 60, north of Mundelein. Furnished models are open daily from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. For more information, call (312) 362-9595.

How To Avoid Audit On Your Income Tax

by GARY S. MEYERS

Is it possible to file an aggressive income tax return, taking the maximum amount of deductions, and still not set off audit alarm bells at the Internal Revenue Service?

When you file your return the first thing the IRS does is check it for more than a dozen simple mathematical errors.

For example, thousands of taxpayers forget the five percent limitation on medical deductions, use an incorrect tax rate schedule or claim a partial rather than a full dependency exemption.

After Uncle Sam processes the 90 million or so returns he receives, each is graded for audit potential by IRS computers, experts told The Meyers Report.

"A comparison is made against the norms to see how your return lines up against others in similar circumstances. The closer to the averages, the lower your audit exposure," said Sidney Kess, partner in the New York accounting firm of Main, Hurdman and Cranston.

"There is no way to guarantee that your return will never be audited. There is always a certain risk factor, even if it is only random selection," said Dave Phillips, tax expert with CPA Laventhol & Horwath, a national CPA firm.

Experts told The Meyers Report the IRS can audit only about two percent of the total number of returns. If you earn more than $50,000 annually, chances are about one in 10 that your return will be audited. However, only about three out of every 100 taxpayers earning between $10,000 and $50,000 can expect an audit.

The averages are well known to tax experts and accountants. Honestly assess your real audit exposure with them. The closer to the average IRS test scoring system, the lower your risk of having to defend your return to an IRS Examiner.

"However, don't forgo deductions and credits to which you are entitled just because they may result in increasing your audit potential," said Irving Blackman, partner in the Chicago-based certified public accounting firm of Blackman, Kallick & Co.

And do not assume you can take deductions and credits you are not entitled to because you find yourself below average.

There are different kinds of audits. If the mathematical review finds an error on your return, you may get a letter from the IRS service center. Although that's one form of audit, it's usually not a problem. Here are other kinds of audits:

---OFFICE AUDIT. The IRS gives your return the once over, but only checks one or two points.

---FIELD AUDIT. This form of audit is much more extensive. It can involve a line-by-line check of your return.

---TAXPAYER COMPLIANCE MEASUREMENT PROGRAM. This dreaded audit can go into every detail of your return and financial records. About 50,000 returns are scheduled for a TCMP audit, based on a random computerized sampling. If your return is fingered, you can't avoid it.

Tax experts gave The Meyers Report the following list of simple tactics you can use to reduce your audit exposure:

---FILE LATE. Mail your return between April 1 and April 15. Officially, the IRS says that it doesn't make any difference when a return is filed, but some insiders say the later you file, the less the likelihood of an audit.

---TAX PLANNING. You can lower the risk of being audited by good tax planning. Stay away from tricky or novel tax shelters. Currently, the IRS is using more personnel to shut down abusive tax-shelter investment schemes. That means fewer auditors are available to check on non-tax shelter returns.

If you are investing to cut taxes, and are looking to make a decent return on your investment in later years, you should have little difficulty with the IRS. But if you are involved with less than forthright promoters, you will have problems.

The Meyers Report

Economic forecaster Gary S. Meyers has been a lecturer and consultant to major financial institutions, government analysts, real estate developers and daily newspapers throughout the nation for the past 16 years. Readers are invited to submit comments and questions for possible use as subjects for future columns. Write Gary S. Meyers & Associates, Ltd., 20 W. Hubbard, Chicago, IL 60610.

---PROBLEM DEDUCTIONS. Beware of deductions that tend to be red-flagged by the IRS. These include charitable deductions of property that exceed $5,000, Schedule D losses from investments, Schedule E losses due to partnership investments, and Schedule F losses on "hobby" farms.

You can be a fairly good judge of whether or not your tax-shelter investments will cause the IRS computer to blink.

---TAX PREPARERS. Avoid tax preparers who are too aggressive in their quest for deductions. If you are conservative, find a preparer who leans that way, too. Stick with firms that people you know have dealt with. Inquire about the preparer's past dealings with the IRS.

As in the past, the higher your income, the greater your risk of being audited. But the IRS has changed its criteria for deciding who has a high income. The changes focus attention on a small group of taxpayers and ease the pressure on most of us.

---CLASSIFICATION CHANGES. The IRS used to group returns according to adjusted gross income. This figure included wages, interest, dividends, and other income, less investment and business losses.

Let's suppose taxpayer No. 1 has $75,000 in wages and dividends, and taxpayer No. 2 has the same income minus a $30,000 paper loss from an oil and gas venture. Taxpayer No. 1 would have been placed in the $75,000-a-year category, facing a higher risk of audit than taxpayer No. 2, who would have been lumped in with those making $45,000.

Now, the IRS classifies returns based on total positive figures and ignores losses. This means taxpayer No. 2 is more likely to be audited than he was in the past because his tax-shelter investment puts him in a target group.

Babcox-Neal Deal Sunk Venita's Clerk Future

by JOHN STEINKE
Political Columnist

Dist. 4 County Board Rep. Donna-Mae Litwiler of Ingleside trounced Wauconda Village Clerk Venita L. McConnell for the Republican nomination for Lake County Clerk in the March 18 primary. Litwiler captured 14,507 votes to 10,755 for McConnell. Mrs. Litwiler polled 57.4 percent of the vote to McConnell's 42.6 percent. She will oppose Democratic incumbent Linda Hess in the Nov. 4 election. Hess was unopposed for renomination for a second four-year term.

Several factors contributed to McConnell's defeat. Mrs. McConnell has been a close political associate of Lake County Republican Chairman Bob Neal, serving on his political cabinet. She had hoped to secure the Lake County Republican Central Committee's endorsement for county clerk. The 26-member committee conducts three secret ballots to determine whether or not one candidate can achieve the two-thirds vote necessary for the endorsement.

The McConnell strategy was predicated on the assumption that she could win the party endorsement for the Neal-dominated central committee. McConnell received 15 endorsement votes to Litwiler's 10. But she didn't attain the required two-thirds vote. The Lake County Republican Central Committee then declared that both McConnell and Litwiler were "qualified" candidates for the GOP nomination for Lake County Clerk. The central committee vote represented a tactical victory for the Litwiler forces.

Litwiler's political mentor is Lake County Sheriff Robert H. "Mickey" Babcox. The sheriff mobilized most elected Republican officials behind Litwiler's candidacy. Babcox remains the most powerful Republican politician in Lake County. McConnell's campaign was further damaged when Neal apparently deserted her candidacy. Allegedly, Neal reneged on his promise to provide McConnell with clandestine assistance.

Reportedly, Neal was fearful that Sheriff Babcox might field a candidate against him in his bid for a third term as party chairman. Two years ago, Neal has survived a stiff challenge from Litwiler for the GOP chairmanship. It is alleged that Neal dampened his ardor for McConnell's candidacy in exchange for Babcox's support for his reelection as party chieftain. In the process, McConnell didn't benefit from her political alliance with Neal. But McConnell inherited all of Neal's political enemies, who worked hard for Litwiler's nomination. On March 31, Neal was reelected county chairman with Sheriff Babcox's blessing.

The McConnell campaign also suffered from the political fragmentation of the Wauconda Twp. Republican organization. Committeeman Howard Bieze was critical of her candidacy. Nor did McConnell organize a major effort to generate a massive voter turnout in Wauconda Twp. McConnell carried her home precinct by only six votes. Mrs. McConnell received only 75 votes to Litwiler's 69.

Litwiler carried 15 out of Lake County's 18 townships. She captured five twps. with over 60 percent of the vote, including: Antioch, Grant, Lake Villa, Vernon and Warren. Antioch, Grant and Lake Villa Twps. are part of Litwiler's county board district, which she has represented for the past six years. Grant is her home township where Sheriff "Mickey" Babcox is the defacto political boss. In Warren Two., Supervisor Bob Depke's organization vigorously supported Litwiler's nomination. In Vernon Twp., State Rep. Bill Peterson's machine mobilized the vote for Litwiler. Besides Wauconda, McConnell narrowly carried two other town-

User Fees To Help Improve Waterway Chain

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Material used in this article was obtained from a composition by Fred Tetraault, appearing in the March 3, 1986 issue of Outdoor Highlights magazine.)

Chain O'Lakes boaters are not likely to welcome with joy the new levies due to go into effect this year on the use of their craft on the waterway, but they should be consoled by the benefits they ultimately will reap.

Beginning May 1, annual user fees ranging from $10 to $50 will be charged to Chain O'Lakes and Fox River boaters by the new Chain O'Lakes-Fox River Waterway Management Agency. Stickers, which must be displayed on boats, will be issued by the agency as evidence of payment of the annual charge. The fees will pay for improving the waterways in the years ahead.

The fee schedule is as follows:

Class A—boats not powered by motors and boats with motors of less than 10 horsepower, $10.

Class B—boats powered by motors of 10 horsepower or more, but not exceeding 25 feet in length, $25.

Class C—motor-powered boats of 10 horsepower or more and longer than 25 feet, $50.

Class D—commercial boats, including livery craft, a $50 flat fee for the first boat and the operation of the business, plus $1 for each additional boat.

Class E—temporary use, for a period not to exceed 10 days, for any boat of any class, $15.

Class F—special boating events, such as regattas, boat races and fishing derbies, $25 for each event paid by sponsor.

Stickers must be obtained at the Waterway Management Agency's office, 74 E. Grand, Fox Lake, according to Ann Dohnke, executive secretary of the new agency.

Included in the agency's jurisdiction are the Fox River, from Wilmot Dam on the Illinois-Wisconsin state line to the Algonquin Dam at Algonquin, and those lakes which form the Chain O'Lakes or are linked to it by channels: Fox, Channel, Marie, Catherine, Bluff, Petit, Grass, Nippersink, Pistakee, Jerilyn, Redhead, Dunn's and approximately half of Long Lake.

What's it all about? The Chain O'Lakes and Fox River are in trouble. It has been known for some time that pollution, siltation, development and competition among users have taken a toll on the recreational values of the unique string of natural lakes and the once-pristine river in McHenry and Lake counties.

In July 1984, that action was taken by the Illinois General Assembly when it created the Chain O'Lakes-Fox River Waterway Management Agency and empowered it to do the following:

- implement reasonable and necessary rules and programs to maintain and improve the recreational waterway.

- construct, acquire, improve and maintain public recreational facilities without the power of eminent domain.

- acquire, purchase, lease, possess and control dredging and other equipment.

—enter into agreements with Illinois and Wisconsin and local governments.

The agency does not have the right to levy taxes, and cannot charge fees for fishing, snowmobiling on the frozen waters, swimming, waterskiing, construction of piers or any other activities.

The agency's User Fee Ordinance describes a boat as "any vessel for traveling on the surface of the water, propelled by oars, sail, motor or the like." Canoes seem to be included in that description.

The ordinance exempts from the fee requirement "boats owned by local units of government, and used for law enforcement, emergencies or in the performance of their governmental duties."

Permits, which may be obtained by filing an application with the secretary of the waterway agency, will be in force from May 1 to April 30 each year, regardless of their purchase date.

Penalties for failure to comply with the ordinance are relatively stiff—$25 to $100 for each violation.

Enforcement of regulations still is "up in the air," Dohnke reports that the agency is negotiating with the Lake County and McHenry County Sheriff's Police on providing enforcement, but no agreements have been reached.

Monies collected by the agency, according to Dohnke, will go for a wide range of activities to preserve, clean and improve the waterway, including pollution control, tourism promotion, dredging, upgrading of water quality, safety, navigation, construction, enhancement of boating, swimming, fishing and hunting (waterfowl, probably) opportunities.

Among initial steps may be to install lights on bridges, lighted buoys and lighted channel markers.

The history of the agency began 10 years ago with the formation of an advisory commission, the Clean Lakes Commission, which was funded by the state. Its 15 members were appointed by the governor and included representatives of local marinas, improvement associations, the Coast Guard Auxiliary, sports clubs and interested individuals. The body met regularly to discuss Chain O'Lakes problems and their solutions. Its recommendation was to establish the Chain O'Lakes-Fox River Waterway Management Agency as a self-supporting local unit of government with the role of managing and saving the waterway. It would have the power to set and collect user fees and could accept grants from other agencies or foundations, but would have no taxing power. The waterway agency must spend no less than 75 percent of its revenues on improvement projects and no more than 25 percent on administration.

The commission's recommendation became a law in late 1984, and six directors were elected—three from Lake and three from McHenry counties; a board chairman from both counties was also elected. They serve without compensation.

Board members are John Soffietti, attorney, chairman; George Thompson, insurance agency operator, treasurer; Howard (Bud) Scott, dean of students at Grant High School, secretary; Darrell Baker, operator of a charter fishing service; Bruce Bossow, realtor in Cary; Roy Gun-delach, owner of a canvas shop, Ingleside; and Charles Kempf, resort owner, Antioch.

The agency currently operates with funds from a state grant—until fee revenues start coming in.

Board members meet on the second Wednesday of each month, at Fox Lake office in the "odd" months and at the McHenry Twp. offices, 3707 N. Richmond Rd., McHenry, in the "even" months. Meetings begin at 7:30 p.m. and are open to the public.

Currently, office hours are 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, but the office may be open seven days a week during the summer.

Dohnke noted that board members are available for meetings of civic, school or other organizations to speak about the agency.

Before you spend your hard earned money on a satellite receive dish you should learn the facts.

This year popular premium services like HBO and Cinemax will begin scrambling their signals with highly sophisticated electronic encryption devices.

And this new technique won't be

What does this mean for satellite dish owners?

In addition to paying several thousand dollars for the purchase and installation of a receive dish, it will be necessary to spend hundreds of dollars on descrambling equipment plus pay monthly service fees for each channel received.

How Geary Carried Big In Dist. 4 Primary

by JOHN STEINKE
Political Columnist

Antioch, Avon, Grant and Lake Villa Twp. constitute Dist. 4 in western Lake County. Six GOP aspirants sought two county board positions in the March 18 primary. The Republican race tantamount to the election because the Dist. 4 Democrats didn't slate any county board nominees.

There were three coalitions of republican candidates. The anti-organizational hopefuls were veteran incumbent Norm Geary of Grayslake and political novice Bill Mestan of Fox Lake. They accused two of their primary opponents, Pat Anderson and Charlotte "Char" Kiesgan, of being "pawns of Sheriff 'Mickey' Babcox."

The four township GOP organizations endorsed Avon Twp. Pat Anderson of Grayslake and political newcomer Charlotte "Char" Kiesgan of Fox Lake. The regular Republicans denounced Geary as a maverick politician with a tyrannical personality.

Former county board member Joe Tobolik and Ray Edwards of Antioch rounded out the sextet.

The Dist. 4 county board race was a tight three-way contest between Geary, Anderson and Kiesgan. The voters recorded a split decision when the nominated maverick incumbent Norm Geary and party regular Charlotte "Char" Kiesgan. Pat Anderson finished a respectable third behind the primary winners. He lost to Geary by 437 votes, and trailed Kiesgan by 293 ballots.

Steinke On Politics

These factors contributed to Geary's reelection. (1) He had first-ballot position, which is worth 10-20 percent of the vote in a low-visibility election. (2) Geary was the only incumbent running in the six-way field. He has served 21 years on the county board, with two years as chairman. (3) He also benefitted from his "favorable son" status in Avon Twp. This township is the populous in District 4. Besides his county board service, Geary has been Avon Twp. Supervisor since 1963. In the March 18th primary, he received 1,485 votes in Avon Twp., representing 57 percent of his total Dist. 4 vote. (4) The presence of Fobolik and Edwards on the ballot helped to split the anti-Geary vote.

These variables helped to nominate Kiesgan. (1) Lake County has a propensity to elect women to office. Mrs. Kiesgan was the only female running in the six-candidate field. (2) Her candidacy was sponsored by the Grant Twp. GOP organization, which is the most effective party apparatus in Dist. 4. The other Republican township organizations defer to the Grant Twp. leadership. Mrs. Kiesgan's husband, Jack, is the head of the Grant Twp. machine. (3) With the endorsements of the four twp. party organizations, Kiesgan finished first among the six candidates in Antioch, Lake Villa and Grant Twp. (4) Mrs. Kiesgan is a political newcomer with out any public record that her opponents could attack.

Avon Twp. Highway Commissioner Anderson ran a respectable second among the six aspirants in Antioch and Lake Villa Twp. But he lost the election because he finished a dismal third in Avon and a distant second in Grant. Anderson garnered only 800 votes in his home township. Apparently, Avon Twp. voters repudiated Anderson's candidacy for two reasons. First, Anderson had been elected twp. highway commissioner for a four-year term in the April 2, 1985 elections. Less than a year after his election, Anderson was running for the county board. Under Illinois statute, Anderson's election would have necessitated his resignation as highway commissioner. Supervisors are the only township officials permitted to serve on the county board under state law.

Second, Anderson had been elected highway commissioner on a ticket organized by Geary. When the county board campaign started, Anderson was co-chairman of the Geary reelection committee. Then Anderson attended a townships officials convention. Allegedly, he was persuaded to field a county board candidacy by anti-Geary politicians. They included GOP County Chairman Robert P. Neal, Dist. 4 Rep. Jim Fields of Antioch, and Dist. 5 Rep. Bob Depke of Warren Twp. It seemed that Anderson had betrayed his political mentor, Geary. To many Avon Twp. voters, he projected the image of an unprincipled opportunist, who had deserted his main political ally.

Finally, Anderson may have been victimized by a political betrayal. Both Anderson and Kiesgan were endorsed by the Grant Twp. Republican Organization. In the Grant Twp., Kiesgan received 930 votes to Anderson's 479. Kiesgan outpolled Anderson by 451 votes. If he had matched Mrs. Kiesgan's Grant Twp. vote total, he would have been reelected to the county board. Did the Grant Twp. committeemen stress Kiesgan's election at the expense of Anderson's candidacy?

With Sound Pitching Grant Could Surprise

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

If everything comes together, the Grant Bulldogs could be the sleeper of the Northwest Suburban Conference (NWSC) this year. Veteran Coach Fritz Kazlauskys team, with a 10-4 record last year, was just one game shy of sharing the division title with Wauconda.

This year, the Bulldogs are in the delightful position of fielding a young but experienced team.

Coach Kazlauskys said that the Bulldog's abysmal non-conference record (1-5) is deceiving. "We have played some truly outstanding teams. Waukegan West is ranked among the top 20 statewide and New Trier is always a contender for top honors." Kazlauskys commented.

"We have a superb infield, both defensively and offensively. Our second baseman, Mike Kazlauskys, hit .410 last year and made first team all-conference. Three of our infielders had 15 or more RBI's last year - second baseman Kaslauskys with 15; third baseman Joe Vocke with 16; and first baseman Mark Borton with 15."

"Our catcher, Kerry Bennett, has already thrown out three of six men who tried to steal. We have what has to be one of the best

The biggest problem Grant faces is getting the outfield settled. There have been several major game situation errors. Further, none of the outfielders have distinguished themselves with the bat.

"It has been a difficult problem, but I think we have some boys in there now who can play adequate, basic baseball. I don't expect the outfield to be the crucial area in our title bid," Kazlauskys remarked.

What the coach does believe is crucial is the performance of the junior pitchers. Three juniors; Gary Glauser, Mike McDonald, and Jim Theobald combined for a record of 10-4 while pitching for the sophomore team last year.

Kaslauskys said that Grayslake, Wauconda, and Lake Zurich are the teams to beat this year. If his junior pitchers have matured enough to perform well at the varsity level, though, he figures he will have a championship quality team.

Sequoits' Hot Bats Could Swing Season

by GLORIA DAVIS

"A better attitude," is the marked difference between the Sequoit diamondmen of 1985 and those that were scheduled to take to the baseball field in their first North Suburban Conference game of this season, against Mundelein, on Tuesday, April 8, said Antioch Coach Rich Brown.

"We are going to try to be contenders this year and have a good chance to do so," Brown adds, trying to lose the memory of 1985's ninth place out of 10 teams.

Brown's hopes start with his seven returning lettermen that played as juniors and will have experience under their belts.

Antioch could be weak in the pitching department, though Steve Pappadekis, Brian Pankauskus and the Risch brothers, Rich and Bob (also slated to protect home plate from the catcher's position), could produce a few surprises on the mound.

But the Sequoits will depend on teamwork and their batting to get them to the top of the conference and outfielder Mike Galdine could star here. Brown is so pleased with Galdine's showing at practice that he predicts a possible professional future for him.

Galdine was brought up from the sophomore team in midseason last year.

The Sequoits' home run bat should be welded by 6-4, 245 pound, letterman Matt Humphreys.

"When he hits them they take a long time to come down," says Brown.

Jarod Fogel, who will be fighting for the third base position with Jerry Kurczyski, is expected to have a strong swing and so is right fielder Joe Lehner.

Bob Cord is also trying for the right field position but Lehner has the edge right now since Cord sprained an ankle and is temporarily sidelined.

"This year, not only do the Sequoits have a better outlook, but they are better athletes. I have been really surprised and pleased with their progress and aggressiveness," says Brown.

Other lettermen that are lookin' good and almost certain to start at their positions are center fielder Shawn Wiltse, shortstop Eric Reidi, and second baseman Bryan White.

The two big doubleheaders against a duet of the conferences strongest contenders, Libertyville and Stevenson, could tell the tale for the Sequoits.

They are due to face the Wildcats twice on Saturday, April 12. The fact that both contests will be played on Antioch's home field should be in the Sequoit's favor.

Carmel Makes Pitch For Strong Showing

by STEVE PETERSON

Pitching, the baseball team says, is 80 percent of baseball.

At the high school level, Carmel baseball coach Joe Pudlo believes pitching is even more important.

"At this level, good pitching beats good hitting 9 times out of 10," the second-year Carmel coach said.

Performing the duties of "ace" of the staff is George Hickey, 6-4 and all-Lake County last year and winner of the Corsairs' season opener against Zion-Benton.

"He'll be our ace. He pitched five innings and gave up one run and struck out three against Zion-Benton. Last year he kept us close in every game he pitched.

Sophomore Scott Stahoviak, winning pitcher against Grayslake in the season's second game, will be coming off a strong freshman and off-season performance.

"He really pitched well as a freshman. He was on the Libertyville Colt team which finished third in the nation," Pudlo said.

Dan Halverson and Jason Kelly also saw time on the pitching mound last year and give the Corsairs a deep pitching staff.

"Hickey will be our No. 1 starter with Stahoviak or Kelly second or third. Halverson gives us the option of using him as a fourth starter or first man out of the bullpen. We've got kids with ability. The key will be whether they can perform," Pudlo said.

Pudlo's first Carmel squad finished 15-17 overall, but just 4-10 in the East Suburban Catholic Conference. He already sees big differences between this spring's squad and that of 1985.

"The first thing is we have a little more depth. Second, we've got a more solid lineup both offensively and defensively," Pudlo said.

The Corsairs will field an all-senior infield led by second baseman senior Chris Budris.

"He's got to provide some good leadership and put the bat on the ball," Pudlo said of Budris.

Kelly, when not pitching, will be at first.

Bill Fleming, who played second last year, will be at third base.

Carmel will be young in the outfield, manned by two juniors and a sophomore. Steve Burns, Bob Langer and Halverson have earned starting berths.

"I think we're a little inexperienced but we've got some kids who have played outfield before and we could use as defensive replacement," Pudlo said.

Senior Craig Stehle has shown improvements defensively as a catcher, Pudlo said.

"He's really improved defensively, but sometimes he has too much offense and his defense lacks," the coach said.

Mother Nature, as usual, will play an important role in getting games in and setting goals.

"It's difficult to set goals because the number of games you play may not be the same as the number of games on the schedule," Pudlo said.

Still, he would like to see his charges improve on last year's 4-10 ESCC mark.

Pudlo sees Marist and Joliet Catholic, perennial powerhouses, as top contenders with St. Viator, Notre Dame and Holy Cross all having respectable teams.

And if Carmel's pitching comes through as it has in a 2-0 start, perhaps Pudlo will be adding the Corsairs to the list of the league's elite.

Rams Aim For Right Answers

by STEVE PETERSON

Grayslake's baseball season could end in a conference championship.

Or, the Rams might end below .500.

It's been one of those kinds of pre-seasons for coach Jim Haas, who readily admits his 1986 team has plenty of question marks yet to be answered.

"We have a lot of big question marks. We could win the conference title but we could end up under .500. It's up to them," Haas said.

The Rams' biggest weakness this spring may be depth. Grayslake will field only 12 players, five juniors and seven seniors.

"They're a close-knit group. I've been told by coaches that the ideal number for a varsity team is 13 players. We'll find out if that's true," Haas said.

Key returning players include a trio of heavy hitters.

Tom Castino led the Rams with a .409 batting average last season.

Senior Bill Sangbusch also returns off a .377 year and setting a school record with 30 runs-batted-in, including nine in one game. He was named all-Northwest Suburban Conference.

Kelly Bye was named all-NWSC after a .380 with 13 stolen bases.

"That should help," Haas said of the trio's return.

Sangbusch and Bye were the team's No. 2 and No. 3 pitchers last year. Sangbusch had a perfect 6-0 record with an earned-run average of .85. He had an excellent strikeout to walk ratio of almost 4 to 1, striking out 39 hitters and walking 11. Bye split four decisions with an ERA of 3 in 35 innings.

Castino was 1-2 in 17 innings with an ERA of 4.94.

Haas said the squad should fare well at "five or six skilled positions. The question is how the bottom of our lineup and the outfield produce."

Infield positions are expected to be manned by Bye, Castino, Mike Langer, Sangbusch and Shawn Mauritz at first and Jeff West.

Greg Dunski, Dan Kettwich, Jose Perez will be in the outfield.

Junior Tony Bussone will catch along with Brian Yueill. Bussone will also see action at third.

Last year the Rams had a legitimate shot at the NWSC title. Grayslake finished 15-10 overall, 10-4 in the league.

Grayslake led Wauconda by a game going into the final meeting. Wauconda won the first game to force a tie and then held the heavy-hitting Rams scoreless to win a 1-0 eight inning battle for the league title. Wauconda won the championship by executing a double steal.

Haas said Wauconda, Grant and Round Lake have the best shots, on paper, of winning the NWSC crown.

He puts his Rams in a second group with Lake Zurich and Marengo, teams with too many early-season question marks.

"All six could be interchanged. No team was really senior-laden last year. If you look at the all-conference team, just about every team has one or two players back," Haas said.

The Rams hope when the dust settles in May the answers to the questions are positive ones.

NSC Pitching Strength To A Give Mustangs Challenge

With a number of good pitchers returning to the baseball fields this spring, Mundelein High School varsity baseball coach Fred Pickett predicts that the North Suburban Conference League will see a lot of competition as the baseball season gets underway.

The Mustangs, who will have several of their own returning players, ended their first season game against Waukegan West with a loss of 4-1 and will play an away game against Lake Forest in a double-header. Pickett said the team will be concentrating on a more competitive strategy to carry them through the season.

"I hope our pitching will be better this year," he said.

Good pitching and better defensive play are what Pickett sees as the necessary skills to face such top contenders as Libertyville and Stevenson. The Wildcats will return this season as defending North Suburban Conference champions. Stevenson came in second place last year in the North Suburban Conference.

Both have a number of returning pitchers this year.

In order to face other competitors such as Niles North and Zion-Benton, the team will be working on improving its offensive playing and beating last year's overall record of 12-16, and conference record of 8-10.

"We've got to get the key hit with runners on the base to improve," he said.

With a combination of several newcomers as well as returning players on the team, Pickett said he has tried to schedule as many non-conference games as possible early in the season to give the group more opportunity to work together. Thus far, the combination seems to be a good one.

"We've got a good group. Everyone really just enjoys baseball," Pickett said.

One familiar face on the team is senior left fielder John Kazenas, who sat out part of last season after an elbow injury.

Other returning players include senior right-handed pitcher Dan Word, and senior Jay Retzinger as first base and catcher. Retzinger was designated hitter last year.

Newcomers are senior catcher Steve Hickey, senior second baseman Eric Regez, junior Ed Meier as shortstop, Chris Custer, and third baseman and pitcher Tom Bateman. As centerfielder is junior John McNulty; senior Scott Dressendorfer as right fielder. Senior Jim Tipperreiter as outfielder and first base candidate; and Mike Lech as junior outfielder.

Skyhawks Rebuilding; Hoping To Play .500

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

After a terrible season last year (2-12), the Johnsbury Skyhawks have no place to go but up.

Baseball coach Wayne Hiller is entering his first year as head of the varsity team. His goal is to get the team into the top half of the division by playing .500 ball or better.

Returning senior outfielder Pete Switzer is expected to lead the team in hitting. Other returning seniors include: Tony Bianchi, OF; Bill Comstock,

OF; John Kegel, 1B; George Taylor, SS; Bob Boak, P-3B; Dan Steska, P-C; Dave Huemann, 2B; and Jason Perry, P.

Hiller said he has a strong defensive team with a lot of speed. "Hitting could be a problem, especially as we start the season," the coach said.

On the bright side, the Skyhawks will field an experienced team. Returning players may be able to make the best of their abilities and come up with a credible season.

The pitching is not spectacular, but Hiller is expecting a good, workmanlike effort from his men on the mound.

A .500 season this year would go a long way toward strengthening the long-term baseball program at Johnsbury.

Strong defense can make average pitching look good, but it will be hard to take advantage of good team speed if the hitting does not come through. The oldest cliché in baseball is that you gotta get 'em on if you want to get 'em around.

Hitting Strength To Lead Bulldogs Through League

"One game at a time" is the approach that Jim Van Fleet, head baseball coach at Wauconda High School, plans to take as this year's season gets underway.

Already into their seventh game, the Bulldogs will be looking at their strength in hitting when they face tough opponents like Grayslake and Lake Zurich in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

As of their last game against McHenry, the Bulldogs were 4-1, having beaten Mundelein 2-1, split two games with Lake Forest, losing 2-1 and winning 6-4, and taking two games from McHenry, 3-0 and 8-1. They played St. Andrew and Stevenson on April 3 and 4.

As far as pitching strength goes, Van Fleet said the team's most experienced pitchers are returning players Dave Palmer, George Baho and Ray Terrian, all seniors.

Among the other returning players are senior Doug Kirk, and juniors Todd Marlowe, Rich Machon, Bob Babiak, Tom Mason, Norm

Niemo, Greg Stade, Mike Payne and Paul Nibbio.

Newcomers to the team are Paul Luri, Tony Niemo and Jerry De Laurentis.

According to Van Fleet, the two teams to beat will be Lake Zurich and Grayslake.

"With all seniors on their team, Lake Zurich has a lot of experience," he said.

When it comes to Grayslake, Van Fleet said the Rams excel in pitching. The Bulldogs will be aiming to offset that with their hitting, he added.

Warren To Earn Wins

by STEVE PETERSON

For two years, Warren Twp. High School's baseball team enjoyed a North Suburban Conference championship and then a 19-win season.

In 1986, however, most Warren victories will come the John Hausmann way.

They'll have to earn them.

"We had two real good seasons in a row and it will be hard to top that, coach Ron Shelton said.

The Blue Devils took the North Suburban Conference title with a 21-win season in 1984 and came back with a 19-8 log in 1985. Warren slipped in the NSC, finishing fourth at 10-8.

It should be noted Shelton's lack of optimism came just after an 11-4 season-opening drubbing at the hands of a tough Waukegan East squad.

"It's tough to get off to a good start when you have to play East," Shelton said.

The Blue Devils are long on returning lettermen but short on experience in the group.

"We have a lot of seniors who lettered but did not play much last year," Shelton said.

Shelton said hitting was expected to be one of this year's strengths.

One of the key returning players will be pitcher Russ Nolan. Nolan, a senior, was 6-4 last year with a 2.37 earned-run average.

"Russ will be the No. 1 pitcher. He's got to do the job. My big concern is pitching," Shelton said of Nolan.

Other returning seniors are first baseman-pitcher

Pat Krueger; shortstop Joel Elfering; third baseman Jim Burke; outfielder-pitcher Jim Austin and multi-positioned Chris Eustance.

Among Eustance's possibilities are catcher, pitcher and infield.

The NSC is expected to be a challenging league once again.

"Stevenson and Libertyville are the teams to beat based on last year. The whole league is going to be real tough," Shelton said.

The non-conference portion of Warren's schedule is not easy, either.

Northwest Suburban Conference contenders Grant and Grayslake along with an improved Carmel squad serve as warmups for the NSC schedule. Round Lake, another NWSC favorite, awaits Warren April 12.

Round Lake Depending On Mound Success

by MIKE PRAMSHAFFER

Pitching is the key this year for the Round Lake Panthers' varsity baseball team, according to Head Coach Howard Schroeder.

This season the Panthers are aiming to improve on last year's 9-14 overall finish and dismal 6-8 mark in the Northwest Suburban Conference (sixth place).

Schroeder said the biggest weakness that the Panthers had last year was their pitching and it looks as if they are facing the same situation this year.

Schroeder is not saying his pitching staff is weak, but that it is the only phase of the game in which his Panthers are not solid in.

"We've got good bats and decent gloves in the field, so I'm not worried about our hitting or defense. Pitching will be the key for us this year because it was our killer last year. We've got to perform on the mound if we're going to win ball games," he said.

Another key for the Panthers is how well transfer student Bob Aker can fill Brian Horn's shoes at shortstop.

Horn was an all-conference performer last season, but is gone this year due to graduation.

The Panthers will carry 19 players on the roster this year, 10 of which are returning lettermen: Juniors-Chuck Banker (3rd baseman), Damon Horn (2nd baseman) and Keith Schniffl (pitcher); Seniors-Billy Hart (center fielder), Brett Ligenza (right fielder), Al Mason (3rd baseman), Bobby Sanchez (pitcher and 1st baseman), Kurt Schmidt (catcher), Doug Sparks (pitcher and utility player) and Stu Sullinger (1st baseman).

Schroeder believes this team has the potential to score a lot of runs throughout the course of the season. Sanchez hit .397 last year, while Banker hit .322, Kurt Schmidt (.366) and Ligenza (.276).

Schroeder also said that he's looking for some improvement at the plate from Sparks this year, who only hit .183 last season. "I know Doug (Sparks) is a better hitter than that. I'm looking for him to break out of that slump early in the year."

The top four teams in the Northwest Suburban Conference this year, according to Schroeder, seem to be Grayslake, Lake Zurich, Marengo and Wauconda.

"We have the potential to be up there with the rest of them, but it all depends on our pitching. If our pitching comes through, we might have a chance at finishing higher than most people expected us to," Schroeder said.

Can your tires take it?

The time to think about tires for added traction on snow-covered pavement is before the first heavy snowstorm hits.

"If heavy amounts of precipitation mix with the colder weather again this year, record snows could be dumped on many areas causing extremely hazardous driving conditions," says Donald G. Brotzman, chairman of the Tire Industry Safety Council.

"With their deeper tread, heavier shoulders and wider tread grooves, snow tires provide better traction and quicker starts and stops than conventional passenger tires," Brotzman says.

But Brotzman warns against mixing bias or belted-bias snow tires with radial tires. "If radials are used on the front, radials should be used on the rear regardless of whether the vehicle is front- or rear-wheel drive. The handling of a car can be severely affected if you have radials on the front and non-radials on the rear."

Check the tires

Never reduce tire pressure to increase traction on snow or ice or in mud. It doesn't work. Excessive heat buildup from underinflation can damage tires.

During autumn, when outside temperatures begin to drop, tires should be checked frequently because cold weather reduces tire inflation pressure. So don't be surprised when you have to add some air.

Simply by correcting underinflation in their tires, motorists may improve their gasoline mileage by three percent.

Now is also a good time to have your alignment checked. Correct front-end alignment is essential for good tire mileage and safety. Ask your tire service man to check your shock absorbers, too.

Watch for autumn leaves.
Watch for autumn leaves.

Even when it's not raining, leaves have a tendency to retain moisture and create a slippery surface for tires.

Take it easy on wet roads. Stopping on a wet road can take up to four times the normal distance required on a dry road. As water accumulates on the road, tires with shallow tread tend to hydroplane as speed increases, particularly over 40 miles an hour.

Check tread and sidewall. Inspect the tires for tread and sidewall cuts and cracks or snags that might expose tire cords.

A tire is considered worn-out when the remaining tread is less than one-sixteenth of an inch. When this happens, tires should be replaced.

Easy on turns

Don't make sudden turns if you suspect the roadway is slippery. Make smooth, gradual changes, being careful not to oversteer. To prevent slipping, pump rapidly but lightly on your brakes, gradually slowing your car. If you begin to slide, steer in the direction of the skid; foot off the brake pedal until you feel you are in control.

Avoid spinning wheels at high speed on ice or snow. If your car gets stuck, gently rock the vehicle back and forth by alternating between forward and reverse gears. If that doesn't work, get a push or a tow.

Avoid a free-spinning wheel. When one wheel is stuck and the other is not, the free wheel on an axle with a conventional differential gear turns at twice the speedometer speed and can cause the tire to explode, resulting in vehicle damage and personal injury.

For a free copy of "5 Keys to Better Tire Mileage and Safety," send a stamped, self-addressed, business-sized envelope to: Keys, Tire Industry Safety Council, Box 1801, Washington, D.C. 20013.

Roughing it cross-country

Wagon tracks and, in some cases, telegraph and telephone lines served to guide early cross-country motorists. When the wires went in two directions, they followed the poles with the most wires.

Check those hoses, belts

With summer moving in quickly, check the hoses and belts that provide vital links in the operation of under-the-hood systems.

If a V-belt operating the radiator cooling fan were to snap, for example, or the radiator hose burst, spewing coolant, the engine temperature would soar to boiling within seconds and the car soon would be immobilized.

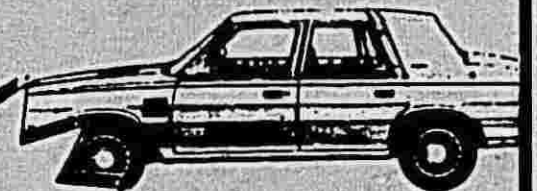

Because these components are so vital to the operation of the vehicle, it's good practice to inspect the V-belts frequently, changing them every 20,000 miles. Hoses should be examined every six months.

Belts that aren't adjusted properly may slip and self-destruct prematurely. And many an undercharged battery can be blamed on a slipping, aging alternator belt.

Manufacturers suggest adjusting or replacing belts when cracking, splitting, unusual wear, glazing or grease or oil are present.

Club Fights Child Abuse

Antioch Mayor has proclaimed April to be "Child Abuse Prevention Month." He has also honored the Exchange Club of Antioch for their outstanding work in this field.

The National Exchange Club has set up a foundation specifically for the purpose of educating people on how to recognize and prevent child abuse. The key to this effort is the establishment of a nationwide network of child abuse prevention centers.

These centers provide counseling for both parents and children to break the cycle of abuse. Most abusive parents were themselves abused as children. They must learn how to effectively handle their own children in a loving manner. Families throughout the country are at last finding new hope and effective help at the Exchange Club's Child Abuse Prevention Centers.

The Exchange Club offers these tips to help prevent child abuse:

- 1) Learn more about child abuse and neglect - including the telltale signs which often indicate a child is being abused.
- 2) Report any suspected incidents of child abuse to local law enforcement or social service departments.
- 3) Find out how prevalent child abuse and neglect are in your community.
- 4) Sign up as a volunteer lay therapist at your local Exchange Club Center for the Prevention of Child Abuse.
- 5) Be kind to your kids and help them grow.

Tips to keep battery in shape

The fast approaching cold weather season significantly increases the need for proper maintenance of automotive batteries, says the Automotive Parts & Accessories Association (APAA).

"My battery was all right until it got cold last night," car owners frequently complain as soon as the first cold snap hits. By then it is too late to do anything but call for help, APAA notes.

Here is advice from APAA to keep your battery in tip-top shape.

• Inspect monthly: The battery should be inspected monthly to make sure the terminals are clean, the electrolyte (fluid in the battery) is maintained at the proper level, and the belts and clamps are tight.

Use a hydrometer to obtain an accurate reading of the battery's state of charge. These are inexpensive and available from most retailers of automotive products.

• Lifetime batteries: Most maintenance-free (or lifetime) batteries are sealed and so do not require checking of the electrolyte level. Even with these batteries, however, you sometimes can check the level by looking through the translucent material on the side of the battery.

These batteries keep the supply of electrolyte at the proper level by using an expansion, or vapor storage, compartment to trap the gasses given off during charging and discharging. The condensation from these gasses drains back into the cells.

If your car has a conventional battery and the fluid level is low, add water to those cells which need it. The car should then be driven a while before using the hydrometer to recheck the electrolyte level. This will give you a true reading by allowing the charging system of the vehicle to recharge the cells.

• Not in winter: Never add water to a battery during the winter unless you plan to drive the vehicle shortly afterward.

This will prevent the water from freezing and damaging the battery.

A fully-charged battery will not freeze until the under-the-hood temperature drops to minus 70 degrees F.; a weak battery, at 20 degrees F. — only 12 degrees below freezing.

The most common causes of battery failure are corrosion on the battery terminals and battery terminal ends, and a loose connection. These conditions are easily remedied if they are caught before a battery failure occurs.

• The brush-off: For corroded terminals, simply remove the cables from the battery. Be sure you remove the negative or "ground" cable first. There is no problem in determining which of the two cables goes to the negative terminal.

Conventionally mounted batteries have terminals that are two sizes. The smaller-sized terminal is the negative one and usually will be marked "Neg." or "(-)." Some General Motors cars have side-mounted batteries — the terminals face a side rather than upward. The negative terminals on these batteries are black.

Clean all the terminals and cable ends with a wire brush. Once the cables and terminals are clean and shiny, re-install the cables.

• Safety first — and last: Be sure you hook up the negative/ground cable last. The reason for removing the negative cable first and replacing it last is to avoid the possibility of sparks or damage to the electrical system.

A tune-up can be an important life extender for your battery. An out-of-tune engine may be hard to start and this wears down the battery, which may not fully recharge afterward.

Other factors in accelerated battery wear are low idle speeds in slow-moving conditions. Picture a car with its windshield wipers, heater, radio and headlights driving at twilight in rush-hour traffic — a marginal battery can go "over the hill" quickly in such conditions.

• Jump starts: Batteries produce hydrogen gas when they discharge or are exposed to extreme loads such as cranking the engine for a long period of time.

An explosion can be caused by a spark near this hydrogen gas when the car is being jump-started.

If you ever need to jump-start your car or someone else's, the Automotive Parts & Accessories Association suggests the following procedure so as to avoid any chance of your car's battery exploding.

1. Pull the two cars close enough together to avoid over extending the jumper cables.

2. Connect one end of the other cable to the positive (+) terminals of each battery.

3. Connect one end of the other cable to the negative (-) terminal of the good battery.

4. Connect the other end of the cable to the engine block of the vehicle being started. Do not connect the cable to the negative (-) of the bad battery under any circumstances!

Avoid damage to the electrical components of the vehicle being started by making certain the engine is running at idle speed before disconnecting the jumper cables.

• Battery acid: Battery acid is highly corrosive. Avoid splashing it on your skin or clothing. Wash your hands before touching your eyes if you have touched a battery case or terminal.

In case of accidental contact with eyes or skin, flush immediately with large quantities of water. Get medical attention IMMEDIATELY if the acid reaches your eyes.

Owner's manual offers good advice on auto maintenance

When was the last time you read your owner's manual? It contains information vital to the care and operation of your vehicle as well as your personal driving safety.

Most manuals explain what to do in an emergency situation. For example, what to do if the warning lights come on while driving, or how to get out of the mud.

The manual also gives precautions concerning jump starting your car, towing it, safe removal of the radiator cap and how to change a flat tire.

Do you really know?

Everyone knows how to change a tire — right? But do you know the proper tightening sequence for the wheel nuts to keep the wheel straight?

Most manuals also list routine safety checks that you can perform. These checks are designed to keep problems from arising.

Useful information

The manuals contain manufacturer's requirements and schedules necessary to keep your vehicle in top operating condition. Many of these maintenance checks you can do — the manual shows you how.

The manual covers tune-ups, fluid levels, tire, oil and gas requirements, bulb replacement and specifications, tire maintenance and cosmetic care.

When the car requires service, the manual explains what you should expect to be done under the hood, under the vehicle and during the road test.

Some manuals go to considerable trouble to explain the car's emission control system, its warranty and your obligations. It may even list trouble shooting and solutions.

Reach for savings

Dig into your glove compartment and find that owner's manual. It can save you a lot of money.

Some things to try and things to buy

A fall morning or afternoon spent getting the car ready for winter can be a rewarding experience.

A little care now — some simple, basic maintenance and a few things that can be picked up at a favorite service station, auto supply store or super-market — can contribute immeasurably to peace-of-mind wintertime motoring.

First, using a spark plug wrench, inspect the business end of the plugs or have the job done by an auto technician. It takes but a few minutes to determine if the plugs are badly carboned or otherwise corroded. If they are, replace them. Since cold starts put an extra strain on the ignition system, many motorists routinely install new plugs at this time of the year. If the car is an older model, installing a new set of points and a new condenser also may be advisable.

How's the battery?

If the battery is the refillable type, make sure it is filled with water, and check to see that the connections are tight and corrosion-free. A mild solution of baking soda will quickly eliminate acid buildup where the cables connect with the battery. Make sure the battery is free of cracks and fully charged.

Check all fluid levels, topping up where necessary. Replace any fluid that's dirty or rusty. Filters are an important consideration. If the automatic transmission, fuel or air filters are being clogged, have them replaced.

Pick up some gas-line antifreeze; when the temperature drops critically, have it handy to help starting and prevent fuel-line freeze-up.

The cooling system should be checked to make sure the antifreeze is up to strength, adding fresh antifreeze if necessary. Flushing the system is a good idea.

Look for cracks and sponginess in hoses, loose, cracked or frayed belts and install new ones. Make sure all hose connections are tight. Also check or have checked the hose clamps, radiator, pressure cap and thermostat.

Check all tires

Cool weather invariably lowers tire pressure. For accuracy, purchase your own tire gauge and methodically check all the tires, including the spare, filling with air as necessary. Be sure there is adequate tread for sure stops and safe driving over slippery surfaces.

Have the car's automatic choke cleaned and adjusted. If it doesn't open when the engine is warm, gasoline is wasted.

Make sure the alternator and voltage regulator are functioning properly.

Inspect the exhaust system to make sure it's tight and free of leaks. An exhaust system spewing carbon monoxide fumes can be dangerous.

Replace worn or poorly functioning wiper blades or, better still, install a set of winter blades, built to take the worst that winter can dish out. Make sure the water in the windshield washer reservoir contains sufficient solvent to prevent freezing and to coax peak performance from the wipers on a freezing, snow-covered windshield.

Buy some concentrate

Plan to pick up a can or two of concentrated windshield washer antifreeze to keep in the car. A 16-ounce container of concentrate occupies a fraction of the space that non-concentrate requires and in emergencies, sub-zero temperatures or particularly bad driving conditions, it can be used undiluted.

Make sure both heater and defroster systems are working.

Turn on the headlights, and observe the high beams. At the same time, check the operation of turn signals, taillights and back-up lights.

Inspect your car regularly to combat pothole damage

The U.S. highway system is deteriorating at an alarming rate and, while most people think that the only cost associated with this problem is higher taxes for road repairs, they're wrong.

Highways in poor condition also cost consumers untold millions in car damage and repairs.

If you think it bothers you to hit a pothole, imagine what it does to your car. By the time a jolt from a pothole reaches you, it has already tortured your car's vital components.

One of the biggest factors in the potholes' campaign to sideline your car is their sheer number. The Road Information Program (TRIP), a Washington, D.C., based research group, says that there are 200 million potholes out there waiting for you.

Why don't we repair them? The answer is simple: it would cost $500 to $900 million to fix all the potholes scattered along our nation's roads. So, the damage goes on.

When you think about the damage potholes can do to your car, it's clear that regular checkups are vital to keeping your car safe and roadworthy. There are numerous things to look for when inspecting a car for pothole damage.

Tires are the first member of your car to meet the pothole and they take quite a beating. Sometimes if the hole is big enough and the car hits it at a good clip, the tire will blow out on the spot. Sometimes this is accompanied by a bent or broken wheel.

So, look at your tires and be sure to check the inside. Be on the lookout for large cuts or bulges which could signal ply separation inside the tire. Also check for leaking shock absorbers and broken springs.

According to John Adams, Chief Engineer of the Ball and Roll Corp.,

Group at Federal Mogul, there are some components you can't easily see that could also be damaged by potholes.

"Wheel bearings are subject to extremely high impact loads that can cause indentations in the bearing raceway leading to early failure," says Adams.

"If you should hear strange noises coming from any of the wheels, especially after an unusually severe jolt, have the bearings checked," he added.

While your professional mechanic is checking the bearings, have him inspect the rest of the suspension components. He should check for tie rod and ball joint damage as well as looking at the rest of the steering linkage.

And, while he has the wheel off, have him look closely at the spindle for any signs of damage.

NEXT WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 20) The Lamb's shank of the evening is when romance beckons most beguilingly. Positive feelings flow more freely on the job. Expect good aspects to continue.

Taurus (Apr. 21-May 20) It's a bull market for Taurine ideas. What's possible becomes probable as you continue to show how your plans can be applied to practical usage.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) A know-it-all says no to all of your suggestions. But supportive co-workers come out to help you make your case with higher-ups.

Cancer (June 21-Jul. 22) Curb the Cancerian tendency to be a too-fussy guest. Ease up on your demands now and you please those who can be of greater help later.

Leo (Jul. 23-Aug. 22) Warming weather energizes Leos of all ages — adults and cubs both. Activities thrive on all levels: work, school and recreation. Go get 'em, Pussycat.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Too many disruptions can dissipate your energies. Clear away any unnecessary clutter and distractions. Concentrate on the job at hand.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Knowledge is the stabilizing force you need to avoid making a choice that leads to unsteady extremes. Seek balance in your efforts.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) A loved one's needs cause you to change plans. Delay rescheduling them until all current situations are resolved. Things work out well. Be patient.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Career changes depend on closer attention to details. Go over your qualifications. Include very point that can make a positive difference.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't give up. The breakthrough you're hoping for can happen. Remember: every locked door can be opened once you find the right key.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) A disruption beyond your control affects part of your life. Don't fuss over the mess. It's only temporary. Things revert to normal very soon.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) A minor health problem needs tending to before it becomes a major nuisance. Later, look for a Scorpion suitor with designs on your future. © 1986, McNaught Synd.

SEARS Met ROEBUCK

Through The Want Ads

AND WE CALL THAT RESULTS!

Here's The Story...

RICHARD W. SEARS was employed as a station agent in Redwood Falls Mn. in the early 1880's. He was 19 at the time. By coincidence, he began selling watches and found the business profitable. He expanded his operation, moving first to Minneapolis and then in 1887 to Chicago.

Needing a watch repairman, Sears placed the above classified ad in the Chicago Daily News. The ad was answered by ALVAH C. ROEBUCK, and he got the job! This was the first meeting of the 2 men whose names were to be joined in the largest mail order business in the world.

THE CHOICE IS YOURS!!!

If you haven't opened an Individual Retirement Account, you're paying more taxes than necessary. Regardless of your income, an IRA can lessen your tax bite and allow you to keep more of what you earn.

• Don't Pay Unnecessary Taxes

Your federal taxable income is reduced by the size of your IRA contribution, giving you a significant "break" at tax time. Even a modest annual contribution can make an important difference. Interest earned is tax deferred, so you gain an even greater tax advantage while saving for a more secure retirement.

• Put Your Money To Work For You

Let the Bank of Waukegan custom tailor an IRA to meet your individual needs. See our planning experts soon and make the savings choice that pays off both at tax time and at retirement.

• Make The Wise Choice

Open an Individual Retirement Account with the Bank of Waukegan.
